- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3), the descendants of a donor of Maori land shall be determined by order of the Maori Land Court.

22 Open space covenants

- (1) Where the board is satisfied that any private land, or land held under Crown lease, ought to be established or maintained as open space, and that such purpose can be achieved without the Trust acquiring the ownership of the land or, as the case may be, the lessee's interest in the land, the board may treat and agree with the owner or lessee of the land for the execution by the owner or lessee in favour of the Trust of an open space covenant on such terms and conditions as the board and the owner or lessee may agree.
- (2) In the case of any private land, where the person with whom the board is treating is an owner by virtue of being a lessee of the land, the consent of the lessor (and, if the land is Maori land, of the Registrar of the Maori Land Court) shall be required to the execution of the covenant, and any such consent may be given subject to the inclusion in the open space covenant of any conditions that the person giving his consent thinks necessary.

- (3) In the case of a Crown lease, the consent of the person or authority charged with the administration of the land shall be required to the execution of the covenant; and that person or authority may consent subject to the inclusion of any conditions in the open space covenant, and may agree to a reduction in rent if, having regard to the basis for fixing the rent, it appears fair and equitable to do so.
- (4) The effect of an open space covenant shall be to require the land to which it applies to be maintained as open space in accordance with the terms of the covenant and, subject always to those terms, in accordance with the other provisions of this Act relating to land to which open space covenants apply.
- (5) An open space covenant may be executed to have effect in perpetuity or for a specified term, according to the nature of the interest in land to which it applies and the terms and conditions of the agreement between the Trust and the owner.
- (6) Notwithstanding any rule of law or equity to the contrary, every open space covenant shall run with and bind the land that is subject to the burden of the covenant, and shall be deemed to be an interest in the land for the purposes of the Land Transfer Act 1952.
- (7) The District Land Registrar for the land registration district in which the land is situated shall on the application of the board enter in the appropriate folium of the register relating to the land that is subject to the burden of the covenant a notification of the covenant.
- (8) Where the burden of the covenant applies to land comprising part of the land in a certificate or instrument of title, the District Land Registrar may require the deposit of a plan in accordance with section 167 of the Land Transfer Act 1952; or, in lieu of such a plan, the District Land Registrar may accept a document incorporating the covenant, so long as the document is accompanied by a certificate given by the Surveyor-General, or the Chief Surveyor of the land district in which the land is situated, to the effect that the covenant is adequately described and properly defined—
 - (a) for the nature of the covenant; and

- (b) in relation to existing surveys made in accordance with regulations for the time being in force for the purpose; and

 - (b) correct any error of description in the covenant (whether with respect to the boundaries of an area of land or otherwise).
- (2) Notwithstanding section 9(10), the board shall not enter into any memorandum of variation under this section unless all of the members of the board agree to the proposed variation.
- (3) Any consent required by section 22 to the execution of an open space covenant shall also be required in the case of any variation of that covenant under this section.
- (4) On application by the board, the District Land Registrar for the land registration district concerned shall enter in the appropriate folium of the register relating to the land that is subject to the burden of the covenant a notification of a memorandum of variation executed under this section.
- (5) Where the variation of a covenant alters the area of the land to which the covenant relates and that land comprises part of the land in a certificate or instrument of title, the District Land Registrar may require the deposit of a plan in accordance with section 167 of the Land Transfer Act 1952; or, in lieu of such a plan the District Land Registrar may accept a document incorporating the variation, so long as the document is accompanied by a certificate given by the Surveyor-General, or the Chief Surveyor of the land district in which the land is situated, to the effect that the variation is adequately described and properly defined—

Notes1 General

This is a reprint of the Queen Elizabeth the Second National Trust Act 1977. The reprint incorporates all the amendments to the Act as at 1 July 2013, as specified in the list of amendments at the end of these notes.

Relevant provisions of any amending enactments that contain transitional, savings, or application provisions that cannot be compiled in the reprint are also included, after the principal enactment, in chronological order. For more information, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/reprints/>.

2 Status of reprints

Under section 16D of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, reprints are presumed to correctly state, as at the date of the reprint, the law enacted by the principal enactment and by the amendments to that enactment. This presumption applies even though editorial changes authorised by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 have been made in the reprint.

This presumption may be rebutted by producing the official volumes of statutes or statutory regulations in which the principal enactment and its amendments are contained.

3 How reprints are prepared

A number of editorial conventions are followed in the preparation of reprints. For example, the enacting words are not included in Acts, and provisions that are repealed or revoked are omitted. For a detailed list of the editorial conventions, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/editorial-conventions/> or Part 8 of the Tables of New Zealand Acts and Ordinances and Statutory Regulations and Deemed Regulations in Force.

4 Changes made under section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989

Section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 authorises the making of editorial changes in a reprint as set out in sections 17D and 17E of that Act so that, to the extent permitted, the format and style of the reprinted enactment is consistent with current legislative drafting practice. Changes that would alter the effect of the legislation are not permitted. A new format of legislation was introduced on 1 January 2000. Changes to legislative drafting style have also been made since 1997, and are ongoing. To the extent permitted by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, all legislation reprinted after 1 January 2000 is in the new format for legislation and reflects current drafting practice at the time of the reprint.

In outline, the editorial changes made in reprints under the authority of section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 are set out below, and they have been applied, where relevant, in the preparation of this reprint:

- omission of unnecessary referential words (such as “of this section” and “of this Act”)
- typeface and type size (Times Roman, generally in 11.5 point)
- layout of provisions, including:
 - indentation
 - position of section headings (eg, the number and heading now appear above the section)
- format of definitions (eg, the defined term now appears in bold type, without quotation marks)
- format of dates (eg, a date formerly expressed as “the 1st day of January 1999” is now expressed as “1 January 1999”)

- position of the date of assent (it now appears on the front page of each Act)
- punctuation (eg, colons are not used after definitions)
- Parts numbered with roman numerals are replaced with arabic numerals, and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- case and appearance of letters and words, including:
 - format of headings (eg, headings where each word formerly appeared with an initial capital letter followed by small capital letters are amended so that the heading appears in bold, with only the first word (and any proper nouns) appearing with an initial capital letter)
 - small capital letters in section and subsection references are now capital letters
- schedules are renumbered (eg, Schedule 1 replaces First Schedule), and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- running heads (the information that appears at the top of each page)
- format of two-column schedules of consequential amendments, and schedules of repeals (eg, they are rearranged into alphabetical order, rather than chronological).
