Application form for, and amount, period, and form of, support

9 Application form must be completed

- (1) Temporary additional support may be granted to an applicant for that support only if an application form for the purpose is completed in writing by or on behalf of the applicant.
- (2) The form must be provided by the chief executive.
- (3) The form must, when completed, set out the information required to allow—
 - (a) the applicant's eligibility for temporary additional support to be assessed; and
 - (b) the rate of any temporary additional support payable to the applicant to be determined.

10 Prescribed amount of support: general weekly rate

- (1) The amount of temporary additional support that may be granted per week is the sum of—
 - (a) the lesser of the deficiency and the upper limit (see subclause (3) or regulation 10A, whichever is applicable); and
 - (b) the disability exception amount (if that amount is available to the applicant under regulation 11).
- (2) The deficiency is the amount (if any) by which the applicant's standard costs exceed his or her disposable income (as those terms are defined in regulation 4), but—
 - (a) is nil if the applicant's disposable income exceeds his or her standard costs; and
 - (b) if the applicant's disposable income is a negative amount, is the sum of that income (expressed as a positive amount) and his or her standard costs.

- (3) The upper limit is 30% of the total before abatement on account of income or other deduction of the net rate per week—
- (a) of the 1 or more specified benefits payable to the applicant and his or her spouse or partner (if any); or
 - (b) if the applicant and his or her spouse or partner (if any) are non-beneficiaries, of the benefit that would be payable to him or her or them if job-seeker support were payable to him or her or them.

10A Variation of upper limit for persons awaiting decision on refugee or protected person claims, refugees and protected persons, and certain applicants for residence class visas

- (1) Subclause (2) applies, instead of regulation 10(3), when calculating under regulation 10(1) the amount of temporary additional support that may be granted per week to a person who the chief executive is satisfied is—
- (a) a person of the kind referred to in section 74A(1)(c) of the Act (a person lawfully present in New Zealand awaiting the outcome of his or her claim for recognition as a refugee or a protected person in New Zealand); or
 - (b) a person referred to in section 74A(1)(d) of the Act (a person who is recognised as a refugee or a protected person in New Zealand); or
 - (c) a person referred to in section 74A(1)(e) of the Act (a person applying for a residence class visa under the Immigration Act 2009 who is compelled to remain in New Zealand through some unforeseen circumstances).
- (2) The upper limit is the higher of—
- (a) the appropriate maximum rate of accommodation supplement that would be applicable if section 74A(1) of the Act did not prohibit the person receiving a benefit; and
 - (b) the upper limit in regulation 10(3).

Regulation 10A: substituted, at 2 am on 29 November 2010, by section 406(2) of the Immigration Act 2009 (2009 No 51).

11 Disability exception amount

- (1) The disability exception amount—
- (a) is available to the applicant only if—
 - (i) the deficiency exceeds the upper limit; and
 - (ii) the applicant's allowable costs include an excess disability costs total (as defined in subclause (2)); and

- (b) if available to the applicant, is 30% of the excess disability costs total (as so defined).
- (2) In these regulations,—
- excess disability costs, in respect of a person, means disability costs (as defined in regulation 4) that—
- (a) are disability costs in respect of which the person has been granted a disability allowance under section 69C of the Act; and
 - (b) have been included in the calculation of that disability allowance granted to the person; and
 - (c) are in excess of the maximum amount of a disability allowance under section 69C of the Act
- excess disability costs total means the total of all of the excess disability costs (if any) for any or all of—
- (a) the applicant; and
 - (b) a member of the applicant's family; and
 - (c) a child for whom an orphan's benefit or an unsupported child's benefit is being paid.

12 Amount of support granted must be recalculated after change in chargeable income or allowable costs or both

If an applicant's chargeable income changes, his or her allowable costs change, or both of them change, during the period (see regulation 14) for which the applicant has been granted temporary additional support, then despite regulation 10(1)—

- (a) the amount of that support granted to the applicant (whether it results from the original calculation under regulation 10(1) or from an earlier recalculation required by this paragraph) must, as soon as practicable, be recalculated under regulation 10(1) taking into account all changes—
 - (i) in the applicant's chargeable income or allowable costs or both during that period; and
 - (ii) that were not taken into account in the original calculation under regulation 10(1) or in any earlier recalculations required by this paragraph; and
- (b) the amount of that support granted to the applicant for any later weeks of that period (until and subject to any later recalculation required by paragraph (a)) is the amount that results from the recalculation required by paragraph (a).

13 Prescribed amount of support: exceptions

- (1) The amount of temporary additional support that may be granted per week—

- (a) is 50% of the weekly rate under regulation 10(1) if temporary additional support is granted to the spouse or partner of a person who is ineligible to be granted temporary additional support under paragraph (b) or paragraph (d) of regulation 7(3); and
 - (b) is nil if the result of the calculation under regulation 10(1) or, as the case may be, paragraph (a) of this subclause, is less than $1 a week.
- (2) Subclause (1)(b) overrides subclause (1)(a).
 - (3) This regulation overrides regulations 10 to 12.

Example 1—single jobseeker support beneficiary with 2 dependent children

P is a single jobseeker support beneficiary with 2 dependent children, both of whom are younger than 13 years of age.

- 1 P's weekly chargeable income is $503.14, and is made up of—
 - $249.10 net jobseeker support; and
 - $119.00 family tax credit—a credit of tax under subparts MA to MG and MZ of the Income Tax Act 2007; and
 - $84.00 accommodation supplement for a resident renting in area 1; and
 - $51.04 disability allowance (paid at the maximum).
- 2 P's weekly allowable costs are $313.96, and are made up of—
 - $200.00 rent in area 1 (deduct $20.96 loading from accommodation costs); and
 - $134.92 disability costs via disability allowance.
- 3 P's disposable income is therefore $189.18, which is the remainder (a positive amount) obtained by subtracting—
 - $313.96 P's weekly allowable costs; from
 - $503.14 P's weekly chargeable income.
- 4 P's standard costs are $257.67, and are made up of—
 - $174.37 70% of the net jobseeker support; and
 - $83.30 70% of family tax credit.
- 5 P's standard costs, $257.67, exceed P's disposable income, $189.18, by $68.49. The deficiency is therefore $68.49.
- 6 The upper limit is $74.73 (which is 30% of the net jobseeker support).

If P is eligible for temporary additional support under regulations 6 to 8, and an application form for that support is completed as required by regulation 9, then the amount of that support that P may be granted per week, under regulation 10, is $68.49, which is the lesser of the deficiency, $68.49, and the upper limit, $74.73. (Although P has disability costs included in his or her allowable costs, the disability exception amount is not available to P under regulation 11, because P's deficiency does not exceed the upper limit.)

Example 2—married jobseeker support beneficiary with 3 dependent children

S is a married jobseeker support beneficiary with 3 dependent children, all of whom are younger than 13 years of age.

- 1 S's weekly chargeable income is $557.92, and is made up of—

- $289.84 net jobseeker support; and
$166.00 family tax credit—a credit of tax under subparts MA to MG and MZ of the Income Tax Act 2007; and $102.08 disability allowance × 2 (paid at the maximum).
- 2 S's weekly allowable costs are $327.48, and are made up of—
$200.00 Housing New Zealand rent in area 1 (deduct $20.96 loading from accommodation costs); and
$148.44 disability costs via disability allowance.
- 3 S's disposable income is therefore $230.44, which is the remainder (a positive amount) obtained by subtracting—
$327.48 S's weekly allowable costs; from
$557.92 S's weekly chargeable income.
- 4 S's standard costs are $319.09, and are made up of—
$202.89 70% of the net jobseeker support; and
$116.20 70% of family tax credit.
- 5 S's standard costs, $319.09, exceed S's disposable income, $230.44, by $88.65. The deficiency is therefore $88.65.
- 6 The upper limit is $86.95 (which is 30% of the net jobseeker support).
- 7 The disability exception amount is $13.91 (which is 30% of the excess disability costs total).

If S is eligible for temporary additional support under regulations 6 to 8, and an application form for that support is completed as required by regulation 9, then the amount of that support that S may be granted per week, under regulations 10 and 11, is $100.86.

That amount, $100.86, is the sum of—

- (a) $86.95, which is the lesser of the deficiency, $88.65, and the upper limit, $86.95 (see regulation 10(1)(a)); and
(b) $13.91, which is the disability exception amount available to S under regulation 11 (see regulation 10(1)(b)).

Example 3—single jobseeker support beneficiary with no dependent children

X is a single jobseeker support beneficiary who is 26 years of age and has no dependent children.

- 1 X's weekly chargeable income is $193.92, and is made up of—
$173.92 net jobseeker support; and
$20.00 disability allowance.
- 2 X's weekly allowable costs are $159.48, and are made up of—
$130.00 Housing New Zealand rent in area 1 (deduct $20.96 loading from accommodation costs); and
$20.00 disability costs via disability allowance; and $9.48 consumer credit contracts.
- 3 X's disposable income is therefore $34.44, which is the remainder (a positive amount) obtained by subtracting—
$159.48 X's weekly allowable costs; from
$193.92 X's weekly chargeable income.

- 4 X's standard costs are $121.74 (which is 70% of the net jobseeker support).
- 5 X's standard costs, $121.74, exceed X's disposable income, $34.44, by $87.30. The deficiency is therefore $87.30.
- 6 The upper limit is $52.18 (which is 30% of the net jobseeker support).

If X is eligible for temporary additional support under regulations 6 to 8, and an application form for that support is completed as required by regulation 9, then the amount of that support that X may be granted per week, under regulation 10, is $52.18, which is the lesser of the deficiency, $87.30, and the upper limit, $52.18. (Although X has disability costs included in his or her allowable costs, the disability exception amount is not available to X under regulation 11, because his or her disability costs are met by his or her disability allowance.)

14 Prescribed period of support

- (1) The period referred to in section 61G(3)(b) of the Act is—
 - (a) the shorter fixed period (as defined by subclause (3)), if subclause (2) applies to the applicant; and
 - (b) 13 weeks after temporary additional support commences (the standard period), in all other cases.
- (2) This subclause applies to the applicant if, when temporary additional support is granted, the chief executive considers that, on a date (the non-qualification date) before the end of the standard period,—
 - (a) the deficiency will reduce to nil; or
