5A Grant of letters of administration

- (1) Letters of administration with or without the will annexed in respect of the estate of any deceased person or any part thereof shall not be granted to any applicant therefor unless the applicant shows—
- (a) that he has made reasonable inquiries to determine whether there exists (in addition to any parent or child of the deceased person already known to him) any parent or child of the deceased person who could claim an interest in the estate or part by reason only of this Act and the provisions of the enactments governing the distribution of intestate estates or the provisions of the will (such parent or child being hereafter in this section referred to as any such claimant); or
  - (b) that no useful purpose would be served in the particular case by making the inquiries specified in paragraph (a); or
  - (c) that the making of the inquiries specified in paragraph (a) would unduly delay the making of a grant of administration; or
  - (d) that the getting in or preservation of the assets of the estate requires the making of an immediate grant of administration.
- (2) An applicant for a grant of letters of administration with or without the will annexed in respect of the estate of any deceased person or any part thereof shall be deemed to have made reasonable inquiries as to the existence of any such claimant to an interest in the estate or part if, acting in good faith, he has—
- (a) caused a search to be made of the register of instruments, declarations, and orders maintained by the Registrar-General pursuant to section 9 and ascertained whether or not the existence of any such claimant to such an interest is revealed in the register; and
  - (b) looked through any papers of the deceased person that have come to his notice in the course of searching for a testamentary disposition made by the deceased person, or otherwise howsoever, and ascertained whether or not the existence of any such claimant to such an interest is revealed in those papers.

- (3) Where subsection (1)(a) applies, an applicant for a grant of letters of administration in respect of the estate of any deceased person or any part thereof shall file an affidavit saying that he has made reasonable inquiries for the purposes of the Status of Children Act 1969 as to the existence of any such claimant to an interest in the estate or part (with a brief indication of the nature of those inquiries) and (if such is the case) that he does not know of the existence of any such claimant to an interest in the estate or part.
- (4) Where, pursuant to this section, an applicant for letters of administration with or without the will annexed in respect of the estate of any deceased person or any part thereof complies with subsection (1), nothing in the Administration Act 1969 or the Code of Civil Procedure or the practice of the High Court relating to a grant of letters of administration shall be construed as requiring him to do anything further in connection with the application for the purposes of this Act.
- (5) This section shall have no application in relation to any grant of administration to a trustee corporation within the meaning of section 2 of the Administration Act 1969, either alone or jointly with another person; and nothing in the Administration Act 1969, the Code of Civil Procedure, or the practice of the High Court shall require the trustee corporation or any other joint applicant for the grant to make inquiries, before the grant is made, as to the existence of any such claimant.
- (6) In this section applicant includes a person acting on behalf of the applicant, with the applicant's express or implied authority, for the purposes of obtaining the grant.

6 Reasonable inquiries to precede distribution

- (1) For the purposes of the distribution of any estate or of any property held upon trust, an executor, administrator, or trustee shall make reasonable inquiries to determine whether there exists any person (in addition to any person or persons already known to him) who could claim an interest in the estate or property by reason only of this Act and the provisions of the enactments governing the distribution of intestate estates or the provisions of the will, deed, or other document governing the distribution of the estate or property (such person being hereafter in this section and in section 6A and in section 6B referred to as any claimant).
- (2) In the case of a continuing trust of income it shall be sufficient for the purposes of continuing distributions of income if reasonable inquiries as to the existence of any claimant are made before the first distribution after the commencement of this section of income under the trust.

- (3) Subject to subsection (2) and to subsections (3) and (4) of section 6A, it shall be sufficient if reasonable inquiries as to the existence of any claimant are made before the first distribution after the commencement of this section of the estate or property and before any subsequent distribution where a period of 3 years or more has elapsed since reasonable inquiries were last made.

Section 6: replaced, on 1 October 1978, by section 2 of the Status of Children Amendment Act 1978 (1978 No 8).

6A Reasonable inquiries that comply

- (1) An executor, administrator, or trustee shall be deemed to have made reasonable inquiries for the purposes of section 6 if, acting in good faith and subject to subsections (2) to (4), he has—
- (a) inquired about the existence of any claimant from at least 1 person whom he believes may have knowledge of the matter (except where no such person can readily be located) and obtained from that person (if he is willing to make it) a statutory declaration concerning the matter; and
  - (b) caused a search to be made of the register of instruments, declarations, and orders maintained by the Registrar-General pursuant to section 9 and ascertained whether or not the existence of any claimant is revealed in the register; and
  - (c) looked through any papers that have come to his notice in the ordinary course of administration of the estate or property and ascertained whether or not the existence of any claimant is revealed in those papers; and
  - (d) in the case of the administration of the estate of any deceased person, inquired from the solicitor (if any) last known to him to have acted for the deceased person in his lifetime whether the solicitor knows of the existence of any claimant.
- (2) Compliance with the requirements of section 5A(2)(a) in respect of the estate of any deceased person or any part of such an estate constitutes compliance with the requirements of subsection (1)(b) in respect of the same estate or part thereof unless—
- (a) compliance with the requirements of subsection (1)(b) is material—
    - (i) because a person other than a parent or child could claim; or
    - (ii) for any other reason; or
  - (b) a period of 3 years or more has elapsed since the requirements of section 5A(2)(a) were complied with.
- (3) It shall not be necessary for an executor, administrator, or trustee to fulfil the requirements of subsection (1)(c) on more than 1 occasion in respect of the same estate or property:

provided that where subsection (3) of section 6 applies, the executor, administrator, or trustee shall, before each distribution subsequent to the first distribution mentioned in that subsection, look through the papers (if any) that have come to his notice in the ordinary course of the administration of the estate or property since the immediately preceding distribution of the estate or property.

- (4) It shall not be necessary for an executor, administrator, or trustee to fulfil the requirements of subsection (1)(d) on more than 1 occasion in respect of the same estate.

6B Protection of executors, administrators, and trustees

No action shall lie against any executor of the will or administrator or trustee of the estate of any person, or the trustee under any instrument, by any person to enforce any claim arising by reason of the executor or administrator or trustee having made any distribution of the estate or the property held upon trust disregarding the claims of any claimant where at the time of making the distribution the executor, administrator, or trustee had no notice of the relationship on which the claim is based, if he has made reasonable inquiries in accordance with such of the provisions of section 6 and section 6A as are applicable:

provided that if it appears to the court that an executor, administrator, or trustee is or may be personally liable for having failed to comply with those provisions, in whole or in part, but has acted honestly, and ought fairly to be excused for his failure, the court may relieve him either wholly or partly from personal liability for the same.

Section 6B: inserted, on 1 October 1978, by section 2 of the Status of Children Amendment Act 1978 (1978 No 8).

- (a) advising the person served of his or her right to seek to establish the relationship in question by applying to the Family Court or to the High Court under section 10 for a declaration of paternity; and
  - (b) warning the person served that, unless such an application to the Family Court or to the High Court is made within 3 months from the date of the service of the notice and thereafter prosecuted with all due diligence, the

- (2) Where a person on whom such a notice has been served in accordance with subsection (1) fails to apply as aforesaid for the relevant declaration of paternity, or fails to prosecute with all due diligence an application for such a declaration that is made within the said 3 months, no action shall lie against the executor, administrator, or trustee by reason of his having thereafter made any distribution of the estate or property or any part thereof before it is shown to him that the relevant declaration of paternity has been made.

7 Recognition of paternity

- (1) The relationship of father and child, and any other relationship traced in any degree through that relationship shall, for any purpose related to succession to property or to the construction of any will or other testamentary disposition or of any instrument creating a trust, or for the purpose of any claim under the Family Protection Act 1955 be recognised only if—
  - (a) the father and the mother of the child were married to each other at the time of its conception or at some subsequent time; or
  - (b) subject to paragraph (c), paternity has been admitted (expressly or by implication) by or established against the father in his lifetime (whether before or after the birth of the child and whether by 1 or more of the types of evidence specified by section 8 or otherwise) and, if that purpose is for the benefit of the father, paternity has been so admitted or established either before the birth of the child or in its lifetime; or
  - (c) paternity has been established by means of a declaration of paternity made under section 10—
    - (i) after the death of the father; or

- (2) In any case where by reason of subsection (1), the relationship of father and child is not recognised for certain purposes at the time the child is born, the occurrence of any act, event, or conduct that enables that relationship, and any other relationship traced in any degree through it, to be recognised shall not—
  - (a) affect any estate, right, or interest in any real or personal property, or any part thereof, if the executor, administrator, or trustee has, by a distribution that is properly paid or applied in terms of subsection (3), placed the property or part beyond the possession and control of the executor, administrator, or trustee (in his capacity as such) to or for the benefit of other beneficiaries otherwise entitled thereto before the act, event, or conduct occurred; or
  - (b) disturb a distribution that is properly paid or applied in terms of subsection (3):

provided that, on any further distribution of the real or personal property or any part thereof after the occurrence, event, or conduct enabling the recognition of the relationship, the earlier distributions shall, so far as possible, be brought into account in determining the respective estates, rights, and interests of the persons then entitled to the property that has not been distributed.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2), a distribution shall be properly paid or applied if—

- (a) it is made in accordance with any trust, power, or authority which is subsisting when the distribution is made and which, irrespective of subsequent events, justifies the distribution at the time when it is made; and
- (b) it is made either—
  - (i) without notice of the existence of a person who is entitled by reason only of this Act and the provisions of the enactments governing the distribution of intestate estates or the provisions of the will, deed, or other document governing the distribution of the estate or property; or
  - (ii) after the expiration of any notice under section 6C(1) and without notice of any declaration of paternity made by the Family Court or by the High Court under section 10.
- (4) No action shall lie against an executor, administrator, or trustee for any decision that he makes in applying the proviso to paragraph (b) of subsection (2) if he establishes that in making that decision he acted honestly.
