- (1) The Minister may, on any conditions that he or she thinks fit and at any time or times during the currency of a permit, change a permit by granting a certificate of change to the permit—
 - (a) with the prior written consent of the permit holder; or

- (b) on the written application of the permit holder; or
 - (c) in the manner, if any, provided in the permit.
- (2) A change to a permit may do 1 or more of the following:
- (a) amend the conditions of the permit:
 - (b) extend the land to which the permit relates:
 - (c) change the minerals to which the permit relates:
 - (d) extend the duration of the permit.
- (3) An application under subsection (1)(b) to extend the duration of an exploration permit for petroleum may only be made as provided by section 35A.
- (4) An application under subsection (1)(b) to extend the duration of a mining permit in accordance with this section, or to extend the duration of an exploration permit under section 35A, must be received by the Minister not later than 6 months before the expiry of the permit.
- (4A) However, if the Minister is satisfied that there are compelling reasons why a permit holder could not comply with subsection (4), the Minister may receive an application by a later date agreed by the Minister.
- (4B) All other applications under subsection (1)(b) must be received by the Minister not later than 90 days before—
- (a) the expiry date of the permit; or
 - (b) in the case of an application to change the specified date by which specified work must be carried out, the specified date; or

- (4C) However, if the Minister is satisfied that there are compelling reasons why a permit holder could not comply with subsection (4B), the Minister may receive an application by a later date agreed by the Minister (which date must not be later than the date of expiry of the permit or the specified date by which the specified work must be done).
- (4D) If a permit holder makes an application to which subsection (4B)(b) or (c) applies, the permit holder does not contravene the condition that the permit holder has applied to change if the condition—
- (a) must be complied with or fulfilled while the application is being considered by the Minister; and
 - (b) is not complied with or fulfilled while the application is being considered by the Minister.
- (4E) However, if the application is declined, the permit holder contravenes the condition from the date on which the condition should have been complied with or fulfilled.

- (5) The duration of a mining permit may not be extended under this section unless the permit holder—
- (a) satisfies the Minister that the discovery to which the permit relates cannot be economically depleted before the expiry date of the permit (and in this respect the Minister may consider the extent to which the inability to deplete the discovery during the term of the permit is due to causes or reasons beyond the permit holder's control); and
 - (b) where required to do so by the Minister, submits a work programme which is approved by the Minister in the same manner, with any necessary modifications, as a work programme is approved under section 43—and any such extension shall be only for such period as the Minister considers reasonable to enable the permit holder to economically deplete the discovery.

- (5A) A permit that is the subject of an application for an extension of duration under this section or section 35A continues in force until the Minister determines the application.
- (5B) On the granting of a certificate of change in relation to a permit, the chief executive must forward 1 copy of the certificate of change to the permit holder.
- (5C) If the certificate of change is for an extension of land to which a permit relates and that extension of land was granted in respect of Māori land, the chief executive must also forward 1 copy of the certificate to the Registrar of the Māori Land Court.
- (5D) On receiving a copy of a certificate of change under subsection (5C), the Registrar of the Māori Land Court must enter in his or her records the particulars of that certificate.
- (6) Every application under this section shall be in the form and contain the information required by the Minister in that case.

37 Process for Minister's proposal to change work programme for petroleum mining permit

- (1) The work programme for a petroleum mining permit granted on or after the commencement of this section may be changed in accordance with this section if the change is necessary to maximise the economic recovery of the petroleum in accordance with good industry practice.
- (2) If the Minister considers, on the basis of information on the characteristics and extent of the petroleum field received by the Minister at any time during the currency of the permit, that a change to the work programme is necessary, the Minister must notify the permit holder of the proposed change and set out the reasons why it is being proposed.
- (3) If the permit holder and the Minister cannot agree on the proposed changes, the permit holder may notify the Minister within 30 days after the date of the notification under subsection (2) (or within any further time that the Minister may allow) that the permit holder requires a determination by an independent expert on—
 - (a) whether the work programme should be changed to maximise the economic recovery of the petroleum in accordance with good industry practice; and
 - (b) what any change should be.
- (4) If the permit holder does not exercise the right under subsection (3) within the time specified by or allowed under that subsection, the conditions of the permit are deemed to be changed as proposed by the Minister.
- (5) If the permit holder exercises the right under subsection (3) within the time specified by or allowed under that subsection, an independent expert must be appointed by agreement between the Minister and the permit holder, or, failing agreement, by the President of the New Zealand Law Society (or his or her delegate) on the application of either party.

Section 37: replaced, on 24 May 2013, by section 30 of the Crown Minerals Amendment Act 2013 (2013 No 14).

38 Determination by independent expert

- (1) In making a determination for the purposes of section 37(3), an independent expert must have regard to the submissions from the Minister and the permit holder respectively, but is not required to conduct a hearing.
- (2) Each party must provide a single set of written submissions, and any written evidence and any relevant documents or technical reports may be provided with the submissions.
- (3) In accordance with a timetable set by the independent expert,—
 - (a) the permit holder must provide its submissions to the independent expert and provide a copy to the Minister at the same time; and
 - (b) the Minister must subsequently provide his or her submissions to the independent expert and provide a copy to the permit holder at the same time.
- (4) The Minister and the permit holder must provide the independent expert with any assistance the independent expert may reasonably request.
- (5) After due consideration, the independent expert must provide a written determination to the Minister and the permit holder.
- (6) Any change to a work programme determined by the independent expert—
 - (a) must be limited to what is reasonably required to ensure that the economic recovery of the resource is maximised in accordance with good industry practice; and
 - (b) takes effect on the date of the determination.
- (7) The conditions of the permit holder's permit are deemed to be changed—
 - (a) in accordance with any change to a work programme determined by the independent expert; and
 - (b) with effect on the date of the determination.
- (8) The independent expert must not act as a mediator or an arbitrator and the Arbitration Act 1996 does not apply.
- (9) The independent expert's fees must be borne equally by the Minister and the permit holder unless the independent expert determines one party should bear a greater proportion or all of the fees on the ground that the party's position has not been reasonable.
- (10) The independent expert's determination is final and binding on the parties and there is no right of appeal against the determination. However, if the Minister and the permit holder agree a different allocation of costs to that determined by the independent expert, the determination must be treated as varied to the extent agreed.

- (11) The permit holder must continue to comply with its existing work programme pending the independent expert's consideration and determination of the matter.

Section 38: replaced, on 24 May 2013, by section 30 of the Crown Minerals Amendment Act 2013 (2013 No 14).

39 Revocation or transfer of permit

- (a) if the Minister is satisfied that a permit holder has contravened—
 - (i) a condition of the permit; or
 - (ii) this Act or the regulations; or
 - (b) in any case where a condition relates to payment of money to the Crown under the permit, this Act, or the regulations, payment has not been made within 90 days after the due date for the payment.
- (2) Before deciding whether to revoke or transfer a permit, the Minister must serve on the permit holder written notice of his or her intention to revoke or transfer the permit that—
- (a) sets out the grounds on which the Minister intends to revoke or transfer the permit; and
 - (b) gives the holder 40 working days after the date on which the notice is served to—
 - (i) remove the grounds for the revocation or transfer; or
 - (ii) provide reasons why the permit should not be revoked or transferred.
- (3) The Minister may, by serving written notice on the permit holder, revoke or transfer the permit with effect on the date that is 41 working days after the date on which the notice under subsection (2) is served if—
- (a) the grounds for revocation or transfer have not been removed; or
 - (b) after having considered reasons provided in accordance with subsection (2)(b)(ii), the Minister still considers there are grounds for revoking or transferring the permit.
- (4) If the Minister transfers a permit in accordance with subsection (3),—
- (a) the permit is automatically transferred into the name of the Minister; and
 - (b) the consent of the Minister under section 41 is not required to transfer the permit to, or from, the Minister; and

- (c) the Minister may exercise the rights granted by the permit, or offer it or any share in it for sale by public tender or otherwise.
- (5) A permit holder who is served with written notice under subsection (3) may, not later than 20 working days after the date on which the notice is served, appeal against the Minister's decision to the High Court, but only on the ground that the decision is erroneous in point of law.
- (6) Pending the determination of an appeal under subsection (5), the permit in respect of which the appeal is made continues in force for all purposes unless it sooner expires.
- (6A) The Minister must record any revocation or transfer of a permit on the register of permits, but need not record the reasons for the revocation or transfer.
- (7) The revocation of a permit or the transfer of a permit to the Minister under this section shall not release the permit holder from any liability in respect of—
 - (a) a permit, or any condition of it, up to the date of revocation or transfer; and
 - (b) any act under the permit up to the date of revocation or transfer giving rise to a cause of action.
- (8) As soon as practicable after a permit (other than a permit in respect of petroleum) is revoked, the chief executive shall lodge a copy of the notice served on the permit holder under subsection (2) with the Registrar-General of Land.
- (9) Subsection (8) applies only to permits granted before 21 August 2003.

the Governor-General, within 3 months after the expiry of that period, may by Order in Council on the joint advice of the Minister and the Minister for the Environment (if the Governor-General on such advice considers it to be in the public interest to do so) declare that an arbitrator may proceed to determine an access arrangement between the permit holder and owner and occupier in respect of the land specified in the notice, or any part of it.

- (6) A consent given or declaration made under this section shall entitle an arbitrator to proceed to determine an access arrangement between the applicant under this section and the owner and occupier of the land concerned; and any such arrangement shall be effective in respect of the land to which it relates.

- (2) If the parties come to such a settlement, the arbitrator shall make a determination which gives effect to the terms of the settlement.

69 Procedure

- (1) Except as otherwise provided by this Act, the procedure at a hearing shall be as determined by the arbitrator.
- (2) An arbitrator shall act according to equity, good conscience, and the substantial merits of the case without regard for technicalities or legal forms.
- (3) An arbitrator may conduct a hearing even though 1 or more of the parties to the hearing fails to attend the hearing.

70 Determination of access arrangement, etc

- (1) As soon as practicable after conducting a hearing, the arbitrator shall determine an access arrangement in respect of the land concerned giving the person desiring access access to the land on reasonable conditions, and serve a copy of the arrangement on each of the parties to the hearing.
- (2) An access arrangement that is determined by an arbitrator shall specify the compensation, as assessed by the arbitrator, to which each owner or occupier of the land is entitled under section 76.
- (3) Where the person desiring access has not obtained the required permit under this Act at the time of the determination of an access arrangement, the arbitrator shall specify the compensation, as assessed by the arbitrator, to which each owner and occupier would be entitled under section 76 if the person desiring access had obtained the required permit; and in any such case the obligation to pay compensation shall be conditional upon the person desiring access obtaining the required permit.

71 Effect of access arrangement, etc

An access arrangement determined by an arbitrator—

- (a) takes effect when a copy of the arrangement has been served on each of the parties to the hearing and the person desiring access has complied with the requirements of section 83, if that section is applicable; and
- (b) has effect as if its terms were embodied in a deed that had been duly executed by each of the parties; and
- (c) runs with the land and binds all subsequent owners and occupiers.

72 Variation of access arrangements

An access arrangement determined by an arbitrator may, subject to the terms of the arrangement, be varied by the arbitrator with the consent of all of the parties to the arrangement, or their successors.

Each party's costs, and the arbitrator's costs, in relation to the hearing shall be borne by the person desiring access.

74 Withdrawal from arbitration

- (1) The parties to a hearing may, at any time before the conclusion of the hearing, terminate the hearing by notice in writing, signed by all of the parties, served on the arbitrator.

- (a) any determination made by the arbitrator; or

76 Compensation for owners and occupiers

- (1) Where a person is authorised to prospect, explore, or mine on or in land by a permit granted under this Act and by an access arrangement in respect of that land, the owner and occupier of the land are entitled to compensation from the permit holder for injurious affection and all other loss or damage suffered, or likely to be suffered, by them as a result of the grant of the permit or the exercise of the rights conferred by this Act, or by the permit, or by an access arrangement; and such compensation shall include all of the following:
 - (a) reimbursement of all reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the owner or occupier in respect of negotiations with the permit holder and all reasonable legal and valuation fees in respect of the determination of an access arrangement;
 - (b) reimbursement for loss of income;
 - (c) a sum by way of solatium for loss of privacy and amenities;
 - (d) reimbursement of all reasonable costs incurred in ensuring compliance with, and monitoring of, the access arrangement.
- (2) In assessing the amount of compensation to which an owner or occupier is entitled under subsection (1), an arbitrator shall assess it in accordance with the provisions of the Public Works Act 1981, as if the commencement of activities on land under a permit were the taking of land within the meaning of that Act, except that—
 - (a) where any land damaged is flat land the use of which is necessary for the proper working of hill land, the extent to which the value of the hill land is affected shall, in addition, be taken into account; and
 - (b) where an Order in Council has been made under section 66 declaring that an arbitrator may determine an access arrangement, once the amount has been assessed in accordance with that Act and this section, the arbitrator shall also assess it in the light of any consideration agreed to be paid by the person desiring access, or any other person, to an owner or occupier in any comparable situation in respect of the same or a similar prospecting, exploration, or mining proposal, and shall then determine that the amount to be paid is to be the higher of the amounts so assessed.

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(b)—
 - (a) the owner and occupier and any other person may give such information to the arbitrator as they possess:
 - (b) the arbitrator may require the person desiring access to give such information to the arbitrator as the arbitrator determines regarding the consideration agreed to be paid by that person for an access arrangement entered into with any other owner and occupier in any comparable situation.
- (4) Any information provided by a person to an arbitrator pursuant to subsection (3)(b) shall be treated as confidential by the arbitrator, and section 75 shall not apply in respect of any breach of such confidentiality by the arbitrator.
- (5) If a person desiring access fails or refuses to give any information pursuant to subsection (3)(b) to the arbitrator's satisfaction, within such reasonable period as is specified by the arbitrator, the arbitrator shall refuse to determine an access arrangement.
- (6) In considering the provision of compensation as part of an access arrangement, an arbitrator shall have regard to any monetary or non-monetary compensation offered to the owner or occupier by a person desiring access.
- (7) Where an owner or occupier suffers loss, injury, or damage due to the activities of a permit holder or of a person authorised under section 49(1) carried out on the owner's or occupier's land, and the permit holder entered the land under the authority of an access arrangement or of section 49, the owner or occupier shall be entitled to and may claim full compensation against the permit holder or person authorised for all loss, injury, or damage suffered by him or her as a consequence of such activities to the extent that compensation for such activities has not already been provided for in an access arrangement.
- (8) In default of agreement between the parties, compensation payable under subsection (7) shall be assessed and determined by an arbitrator appointed in the same manner as for the determination of an access arrangement; and the provisions of this Act relating to the determination of an access arrangement shall, with all necessary modifications, apply accordingly.

77 Compliance with access conditions

No person entitled to exercise a right of access by virtue of an access arrangement shall contravene the conditions of the arrangement.

78 Absentee or unknown owner of land

 - (a) of unknown whereabouts and has no known agent; or
 - (b) unknown,—

the person seeking the right of access may, after notifying Public Trust, apply to a District Court for an order authorising Public Trust to act as if it were the agent of the owner or occupier; and that court may make such an order.

- (2) On the making of such an order, Public Trust shall, for the purposes of this Part, be deemed to be the agent of the owner or occupier in respect of whom the order was made, and notwithstanding the provisions of any Act, rule of law, deed, or instrument, may enter into an access arrangement on behalf of the owner or occupier.
- (3) Any compensation payable under an access arrangement to an owner or occupier to which an order under subsection (1) applies shall be paid to Public Trust who shall hold such compensation on behalf of the owner or occupier concerned.
- (4) Where any doubt or dispute arises as to the right of any person to receive compensation held by Public Trust under subsection (3), the High Court may, upon the application of any of the parties interested, make such order in relation to the compensation as it thinks fit, and Public Trust shall pay any such compensation in accordance with that order.

 - (c) an infant, a mentally disordered person, or a person under some other legal disability,— then in the absence of steps taken to appoint a person to represent the owner and after notifying Public Trust, the person desiring to acquire the title or interest may apply to the High Court for an order authorising Public Trust to act as if it were the agent of the mineral owner.

- (2) On the making of such an order, Public Trust may enter into an agreement with the applicant for the purchase at fair market value of the title to or any interest in the mineral estate.

- (3) Public Trust shall not enter into an agreement with the applicant for the purchase of the title to or any interest in the mineral estate if he or she considers an offer at fair market value has not been made.
- (4) Any money payable pursuant to any such agreement shall be paid to Public Trust, and Public Trust, after deducting any fair and reasonable costs incurred by it in relation to the agreement, shall hold the remaining money on behalf of the person represented by it.
- (5) If any doubt or dispute arises as to the rights of any person to receive the money held by Public Trust under this section, Public Trust may apply to the High Court for an order instructing Public Trust how to deal with and apply any such money.

Part 1

Provisions relating to Crown Minerals Amendment Act 2013

1 Interpretation

In Part 1 of this schedule,—

Amendment Act means the Crown Minerals Amendment Act 2013

existing permit means a permit that existed immediately before the commencement of the Amendment Act

new section, new subsection, or new Schedule means the specified section, subsection, or Schedule of the principal Act as amended, replaced, or inserted by the Amendment Act old Part, old section, or old subsection means the specified Part, section, or subsection of the principal Act as it read immediately before the section was amended or replaced by the Amendment Act principal Act means this Act (the Crown Minerals Act 1991).

Subpart 1—Provisions relating to permits and permit holders

2 Permit holder must notify Minister of operator

- (1) This clause applies to a permit holder that, immediately before the commencement of the Amendment Act, comprises 2 or more permit participants.
- (2) No later than 5 December 2013, the permit holder must—
 - (a) notify the Minister of which permit participant is responsible, on behalf of the permit holder, for the day-to-day management of activities under the permit; and
 - (b) provide the chief executive with the name and contact details of that permit participant.
- (3) For the purposes of the principal Act, the permit participant notified to the Minister is, on and from the date of notification, the permit operator for the permit.

3 Provisions relating to minerals programmes

- (1) Despite section 13, a minerals programme in force immediately before the commencement of the Amendment Act (an old minerals programme) continues to have effect subject to this clause and new section 22(2).
- (2) An old minerals programme continues to apply to each relevant existing permit until the earliest of the following events occurs:
 - (a) the permit holder applies for a subsequent permit in accordance with new section 32:
 - (b) the permit holder applies to change the permit under or in accordance with new section 36:

- (c) the permit holder applies to surrender part of the permit under new section 40:
 - (d) a permit participant applies for a consent to transfer some or all of its participating interest in the permit under new section 41:
 - (e) a permit participant notifies the Minister of a change of control within the scope of new section 41A:
 - (f) a permit participant applies for consent to a dealing within the scope of new section 41B:
 - (g) the permit holder applies for the permit operator to be changed under new section 41C:
 - (h) the permit holder opts into the current minerals programme in accordance with subclause (4).
- (3) Once the event occurs, the minerals programme referred to in new section 13 applies to the permit.
- (4) If a minerals programme is approved under new Part 1A in place of an old minerals programme, the holder of a relevant existing permit may opt into that minerals programme (the current minerals programme) by notice in writing to the Minister, and the current minerals programme applies to the permit from the date on which the Minister approves a revised work programme for the permit that is consistent with the current minerals programme.
- (5) Any valid action taken in anticipation of, or as part of, offering a permit for allocation by public tender under an old minerals programme (including any consultation) must be treated for all purposes as complying with any requirements imposed in relation to those actions by—
- (a) the principal Act (as amended by the Amendment Act) in respect of those actions; or
 - (b) any minerals programme approved under new Part 1A in place of the old minerals programme.
- (6) If the Minister has offered permits for allocation by public tender under an old minerals programme, that process must be continued and completed under the principal Act (as amended by the Amendment Act) and any minerals programme approved under new Part 1A in place of the old minerals programme.
- (7) The Governor-General may by Order in Council issue a minerals programme that comes into force on the same date as the Amendment Act commences, and any such minerals programme must be treated for all purposes as if it were issued under new section 19(1) and all the requirements of that section had been satisfied.

4 Provisions about royalties

- (1) Despite anything in clause 3, new section 105A, or regulations made under new section 105A, any royalties to be calculated under a permit or a subsequent permit that is granted in exchange for an existing permit must continue to be calculated in accordance with the minerals programme that applied when the existing permit (or, if the existing permit is a subsequent permit, the initial permit to that subsequent permit) was granted.

- (2) Despite subclause (1), the period in relation to which the royalty calculations are made must be that specified in the current regulations made under new section 105A.
- (3) Subclause (1) applies even if the minerals programme that applied when the existing permit was granted is replaced.
- (4) However, if an existing permit is changed to cover a different mineral, royalties in respect of that mineral must be calculated in accordance with regulations made under new section 105A as those regulations apply when the change to the permit takes effect.

5 Pending applications for permit or change to permit

- (1) This clause applies to the following applications and notifications if a final decision in respect of the application or notification has not been made before the commencement of the Amendment Act:
 - (a) an application for a permit under old section 23 (other than an application to which clause 6 applies); and
 - (b) an application under old section 36, 37, or 41; and
 - (c) a notification under old section 40.
- (2) The application or notification must be determined by the Minister or accepted by the chief executive, as the case may be, in accordance with—
 - (a) the principal Act (as amended by the Amendment Act); and
 - (b) the minerals programme that—
 - (i) comes into force on the date on which the Amendment Act commences; and
 - (ii) relates to the mineral to which the application applies.
- (3) The Minister or the chief executive may require the applicant or the person making the notification to provide any further information or document that the Minister or the chief executive considers necessary in order to determine or accept the application or notification in accordance with the principal Act as so amended.
- (4) If an application was made under old section 36 or 37 and relates to a change to the specified date by which specified work must be carried out, or to a change to specified work that must be carried out by a specified date, the permit holder does not contravene the conditions if the conditions—
 - (a) must be complied with or fulfilled while the application is being considered by the Minister; and

- (b) is not complied with or fulfilled while the application is being considered by the Minister.
- (5) However, if the Minister declines the application, the permit holder contravenes the conditions from the date on which the conditions should have been complied with or fulfilled.
- (6) To avoid doubt, any permit granted by the Minister in response to an application made in accordance with this clause is subject to—
 - (a) the principal Act (as amended by the Amendment Act); and
 - (b) the minerals programme that comes into force on the date on which the Amendment Act commences and that relates to the mineral to which the permit applies unless and until that programme is changed in accordance with the principal Act (as amended by the Amendment Act).

6 Pending applications for petroleum exploration permit

- (1) This clause applies to every application for a petroleum exploration permit under the principal Act—
 - (a) that was made before 30 August 2011 under the Minerals Programme for Petroleum (2005); and
 - (b) for which a final decision has not been made before the commencement of the Amendment Act.
- (2) An application must be dealt with under the principal Act (as it read immediately before the commencement of the Amendment Act) and the Minerals Programme for Petroleum (2005) (as it read immediately before being revised on 25 January 2012).
- (3) A permit granted in respect of an application to which this clause applies has effect as if granted under the principal Act (as amended by the Amendment Act).

7 Petroleum exploration permit holders' rights to extension of duration of permit

- (1) Despite new section 35(4), a specified permit may be extended—
 - (a) for a period not exceeding 15 years from the commencement date of the permit in accordance with new section 36(1) to (4); and
 - (b) under new section 35A.
- (2) In this clause, specified permit means—
 - (a) a permit granted in respect of an application to which clause 6 applies; and
 - (b) an existing exploration permit for petroleum.

8 Relinquishment obligation

- (1) This clause applies to every existing exploration permit in relation to which the permit holder has relinquished an area subject to the permit in order to obtain an extension of duration under old section 37.
- (2) The relinquishment is deemed to be a relinquishment obligation for the purposes of new section 35C.

9 Pending applications for access arrangement for Crown land

- (1) This clause applies to every application for an access arrangement under old section 61 in respect of Crown land for which a final decision has not been made before the commencement of the Amendment Act.
- (2) The principal Act (as amended by the Amendment Act) applies to the applications.
- (3) To avoid doubt, if, immediately before the commencement of the Amendment Act, a final decision has not been made about an access arrangement application made to the Minister of Conservation, the Minister of Conservation or the Minister and the Minister of Conservation, as the case may be, must consider the application in accordance with new Schedule 4.

10 Provisions relating to speculative prospectors

If the Minister determines, within 90 days after the date on which the Amendment Act comes into force, that an existing non-exclusive petroleum prospecting permit holder or an applicant for a petroleum prospecting permit for which the application is made but not determined before the commencement of the Amendment Act is or will be a speculative prospector (within the meaning of new section 90C(7)), new section 90(8) applies to all information provided by the speculative prospector under new section 90 on or after 1 October 2012.

Subpart 2—Provisions relating to existing privileges

11 Application of this subpart

This subpart applies to existing privileges in replacement of all provisions contained in old Part 2.

12 Existing privileges continue

- (1) Except as otherwise provided in the rest of this clause and subpart, each existing privilege continues to have effect after the commencement of the Amendment Act as if—
 - (a) the Act that applied to the privilege before the commencement of the principal Act continues in force; and
 - (b) the holder of the privilege continues to have the same statutory rights as the holder would have had if the principal Act and the Resource Management Act 1991 had not been enacted (except that if any consent in

- respect of the privilege would, but for this subclause, be required and need to be sought under the Resource Management Act 1991, then the Resource Management Act 1991 does apply); and
- (c) subject to clause 15, the holder of the privilege continues to have the same statutory obligations as the holder would have had if the principal Act had not been enacted; and
 - (d) every person having any function, power, or duty relating to the administration of the Act that applied to the privilege before that date continues to have those functions, powers, and duties; and
 - (e) the Environment Court and any other body having any function, power, or duty connected with the determination of any dispute under the Act which applied to the privilege before that date continued to have those functions, powers, and duties; and
 - (f) all persons continue to have the same rights to compensation, to make objections, and to appeal as they would have had if the principal Act had not been enacted.
- (2) Despite subclause (1), sections 63 and 64 of the Petroleum Act 1937 do not apply in respect of any pipeline to which an authorisation granted under Part 2 of that Act relates.
 - (3) Despite subclause (1), if, after the commencement of the Amendment Act, a holder of an existing privilege makes an application to which section 77 of the Mining Act 1971 or section 48 of the Coal Mines Act 1979 would apply, then—
 - (a) the Act does not apply in respect of the application; and
 - (b) the principal Act as amended by the Amendment Act applies instead in respect of the application as if the existing privilege were a prospecting permit, exploration permit, or mining permit, as the case may be.
 - (4) Despite subclause (1), no extension of the duration of a mining privilege may be granted on an application for a variation of conditions under section 103D of the Mining Act 1971 made after 5 pm on 19 September 2002.
 - (5) Despite subclause (1), a section of the principal Act (whether a new or an old section) applies to each existing privilege, in the manner provided in the section, if the section in whole or in part expressly relates to or provides for an existing privilege.

13 Operators for existing privileges

- (1) New section 27 applies to each existing privilege as if the existing privilege were a permit and the holder or holders of the privilege were permit participants, except that the person designated by the existing privilege holder as the permit operator under that section may be someone other than a holder of the existing privilege.

- (2) No later than 5 December 2013, the existing privilege holder must—
 - (a) notify the Minister of which person is responsible, on behalf of the privilege holder, for the day-to-day management of activities under the privilege; and
 - (b) provide the chief executive with the name and contact details of that person.
- (3) For the purposes of the principal Act, the person notified to the Minister is, on and from the date of notification, the permit operator for the existing privilege, unless the permit operator is subsequently changed in accordance with new section 41C.
- (4) For the purposes of subclause (3), new section 41C applies to each existing privilege—
 - (a) as if the existing privilege were a permit and the holder of the privilege a permit holder and, for the purpose of that section, new sections 2B to 2D also apply;
 - (b) but the person proposed to become the new operator may be someone other than a holder of the existing privilege.

14 New sections apply to existing privileges

- (1) New sections 33A, 33B, 90D, and 90E apply to each existing privilege as if the existing privilege were a permit and the holder of the privilege a permit holder.
- (2) New sections 33C, 33D, and 90 apply to each existing privilege as if the existing privilege were a permit and the holder of the privilege a permit holder and, for the purpose of those sections, new sections 2B to 2D also apply.
- (3) New sections 99B to 99G and 99I to 99M apply to each existing privilege as if the existing privilege were a permit and the holder of the privilege a permit holder, but the reference in new section 99C to an offence against the principal Act must be read as a reference to an offence against the relevant Act referred to in the definition of existing privilege in section 2.

15 Administration of existing privileges in respect of Resource Management Act 1991 and Health and Safety at Work Act 2015 matters

- (1) Subject to clause 16, the functions, powers, and duties—
 - (a) that, before the commencement of the principal Act, would have been exercisable or performable by the Minister of Energy in respect of an existing privilege, or of any condition of an existing privilege, or of any provisions of an Act that relate to an existing privilege; and
 - (b) that concern matters that are within the functions of a local authority under section 30 or 31 of the Resource Management Act 1991—

- are exercisable or performable by the appropriate consent authority and the provisions of the Resource Management Act 1991 relating to the existing privilege, with all necessary modifications, apply accordingly.
- (2) Where there is doubt as to which person is responsible for exercising or performing a particular function, power, or duty, and that doubt cannot be resolved by agreement between those persons, any such person may apply to the Environment Court for an order determining the matter, and the court may grant such an order on such conditions as it thinks fit.
 - (3) Before the Minister varies the terms and conditions of an existing privilege, or takes any enforcement action against the holder of an existing privilege in respect of the existing privilege, the Minister must give written notice to the consent authority that has any functions, powers, and duties in relation to the privilege under this clause, of the proposed action and the reasons for it.
 - (4) Before a consent authority varies the terms and conditions of an existing privilege, or takes any enforcement action against the holder of an existing privilege in respect of the existing privilege, the consent authority must give written notice to the Minister of the proposed action and the reasons for it.
 - (5) A failure to comply with subclause (3) or (4) does not invalidate any variation or enforcement action.
 - (6) A local authority has, for the purposes of exercising or performing its functions, powers, and duties in relation to an existing privilege under this section, all of the powers conferred on an enforcement officer by section 332 of the Resource Management Act 1991.
 - (7) Despite clause 12(1)(d) or section 4 of the Health and Safety in Employment Act 1992,—
 - (a) the health and safety regulator or an inspector may exercise or perform the functions, powers, and duties—
 - (i) that would have been exercisable or performable by any person in respect of an existing privilege before the commencement of the Health and Safety in Employment Act 1992; and
 - (ii) that concern matters that are within the functions, powers, and duties of the regulator or an inspector under the Health and Safety at Work Act 2015 or the WorkSafe New Zealand Act 2013; and
 - (b) the Acts referred to in paragraph (a)(ii) apply accordingly with any necessary modifications.
 - (8) Despite clause 12(1)(d), the functions, powers, and duties—
 - (a) that before the commencement of the principal Act would have been exercisable or performable by an Inspector and that would have arisen in respect of an existing privilege, or of any condition of an existing privilege, or of any provisions of an Act that relate to an existing privilege; and

- (b) that concern matters that are not within the functions of a local authority under section 30 or 31 of the Resource Management Act 1991 or the regulator or an inspector under the Health and Safety at Work Act 2015 or the WorkSafe New Zealand Act 2013—are exercisable or performable by the chief executive, and the provisions of the Act relating to the existing privilege apply accordingly, with any necessary modifications.

- (9) References in this section to the Minister include references to any statutory officer appointed under the Act under which the existing privilege was granted.

- (1) The administration of monetary deposits and bonds held under section 108A of the Mining Act 1971, section 71 of the Coal Mines Act 1979, or section 47H of the Petroleum Act 1937 must be carried out so that the chief executive holds the monetary deposit or bond, and any money recovered under a bond, but those sections must apply so that, during the duration of, and on the termination of, an existing privilege,—

- (a) the appropriate consent authority is entitled to have first priority to one-half of the amount of any deposit or bond held by the chief executive for the purpose of restoring or protecting any property injuriously affected or endangered by reason of the failure of the holder of the existing privilege to comply with the terms and conditions of the privilege; and
- (b) the Minister is entitled to have first priority to the other half of the amount of any deposit or bond for the purpose of the payment of any money payable to the Crown by the holder of the existing privilege in respect of which the deposit or bond is held or in respect of any other existing privilege held by that holder; and
- (c) the appropriate consent authority is entitled to the full amount of any increase in the deposit or bond under subclause (2).

- (2) Where the regional council for the region within which any land subject to a coal mining right is wholly or predominantly situated is satisfied, after consultation with the appropriate territorial authority, that the amount of the deposit or bond lodged in respect of that right pursuant to section 71(1) of the Coal Mines Act 1979 is insufficient to meet the amount that is or may become payable under section 71(3) of that Act, the regional council may, at intervals of not less than 3 years, require the holder of the coal mining right to increase the - amount of the deposit or bond accordingly; and the holder of the coal mining right must comply with that requirement.

- (3) Within 15 working days after the date on which notice is given to the holder of the coal mining right that a regional council has increased the amount of deposit or bond pursuant to subclause (2), the holder of the coal mining right may appeal against the decision of the regional council by lodging a notice of appeal with the Environment Court.
 - (4) A copy of the notice of appeal must be served on the regional council and on the chief executive either before or immediately after it is lodged with the Environment Court.
 - (5) Subject to subclauses (6) and (7), for the purposes of an appeal under this clause, the Environment Court has all the powers, duties, functions, immunities, and discretions conferred on it under the Resource Management Act 1991.
 - (6) In hearing an appeal under this clause, the Environment Court must have regard to—
 - (a) the purpose for which the deposit or bond is levied; and
 - (b) the reasonableness of the amount of the deposit or bond set by the regional council, given the purpose for which the deposit or bond is levied.
 - (7) On completion of the hearing, the Environment Court must prepare a written decision, which must—
 - (a) uphold the decision of the regional council; or
 - (b) amend the amount of the increase in the deposit or bond set by the regional council, but such amendment shall not increase the amount originally fixed by the regional council; or
 - (c) revoke the decision of the regional council.
 - (8) No appeal lies from any decision of the Environment Court under this clause.

- (7) Any ironsands export levy payable under an authorisation given or an agreement entered into under the Iron and Steel Industry Act 1959 must be paid 6-monthly within 30 days after 1 January and 1 July in each year.

- (9) Every holder of a mining licence granted under the Petroleum Act 1937 is not liable to pay any fees provided for in that Act or in any regulations made under that Act, but must pay to the chief executive the fees in respect of the licence as the holder would be liable to pay if the licence were the equivalent kind of prospecting permit, exploration permit, or mining permit, as the case may be.
