 - (a) that the supplier has a right to sell the goods; and

 - (c) that the consumer has the right to undisturbed possession of the goods, except in so far as that right is varied pursuant to—
 - (i) a term of the agreement for supply in any case where that agreement is a hire purchase agreement within the meaning of the Income Tax Act 2007; or
 - (ii) a security, or a term of the agreement for supply, in respect of which the consumer has received—

- (A) oral advice, acknowledged in writing by the consumer, as to the way in which the consumer's right to undisturbed possession of the goods could be affected, sufficient to enable a reasonable consumer to understand the general nature and effect of the variation; and
 - (B) a written copy of the agreement for supply or security, or a written copy of the part thereof which provides for the variation.
- (2) A reference in subsection (1)(a) to a right to sell goods means a right to dispose of the ownership of the goods to the consumer at the time when that ownership is to pass.
 - (3) An undisclosed security referred to in this section means any security that was neither disclosed to the consumer in writing before he or she agreed to the supply nor created by or with the express consent of the consumer.
 - (4) Nothing in subsection (1)(a) or (1)(b) shall apply in any case where the goods are only hired or leased.
 - (5) Where the goods are only hired or leased, the guarantee set out in subsection (1)(c) shall confer a right to undisturbed possession of the goods only for the period of the hire or lease.
 - (6) Part 2 gives the consumer a right of redress against the supplier where the goods fail to comply with any guarantee in this section.

Compare: 1908 No 168 s 14; 1971 No 147 s 11

Section 5(1)(c)(i): amended, on 1 April 2008 (effective for 2008–09 income year and later income years, except when the context requires otherwise), by section ZA 2(1) of the Income Tax Act 2007 (2007 No 97).

5A Guarantee as to delivery

- (1) Where a supplier is responsible for delivering, or for arranging for the delivery of, goods to a consumer there is a guarantee that the goods will be received by the consumer—
 - (a) at a time, or within a period, agreed between the supplier and the consumer; or
 - (b) if no time or period has been agreed, within a reasonable time.
- (2) Where the delivery of the goods fails to comply with the guarantee under this section, Part 2 gives the consumer a right of redress against the supplier and, in that case, the consumer may,—
 - (a) if the failure is of a substantial character, reject the goods under section 18(3); and
 - (b) in any case, obtain damages under section 18(4) (other than damages relating to the remedies set out in section 18(2)), whether or not the consumer also rejects the goods.

- (3) For the purposes of this section, the reference in section 20(1)(b) to an agent of the supplier must be treated as including any carrier or other person who undertakes to deliver the goods on behalf of the supplier.
- (4) A consumer's rights of redress under Part 2 in relation to the guarantee under this section are limited to those specified in subsection (2).

Section 5A: inserted, on 17 June 2014, by section 7 of the Consumer Guarantees Amendment Act 2013 (2013 No 144).

- (1) Subject to section 41, where goods are supplied to a consumer there is a guarantee that the goods are of acceptable quality.
- (2) Where the goods fail to comply with the guarantee in this section,—
 - (a) Part 2 may give the consumer a right of redress against the supplier; and

Compare: 1908 No 168 s 16(b); 1971 No 147 s 12; Consumer Products Warranties Act 1977 s 11(4), (7) (Saskatchewan)

7 Meaning of acceptable quality

- (1) For the purposes of section 6, goods are of acceptable quality if they are as—
 - (a) fit for all the purposes for which goods of the type in question are commonly supplied; and
 - (b) acceptable in appearance and finish; and
 - (c) free from minor defects; and
 - (d) safe; and
 - (e) durable,—

as a reasonable consumer fully acquainted with the state and condition of the goods, including any hidden defects, would regard as acceptable, having regard to—

- (f) the nature of the goods;
 - (g) the price (where relevant);
 - (h) any statements made about the goods on any packaging or label on the goods;
 - (ha) the nature of the supplier and the context in which the supplier supplies the goods;
 - (i) any representation made about the goods by the supplier or the manufacturer;
 - (j) all other relevant circumstances of the supply of the goods.
- (2) Where any defects in goods have been specifically drawn to the consumer's attention before he or she agreed to the supply, then notwithstanding that a reasonable consumer may not have regarded the goods as acceptable with those defects, the goods will not fail to comply with the guarantee as to acceptable quality by reason only of those defects.

- (3) Where goods are displayed for sale or hire, the defects that are to be treated as having been specifically drawn to the consumer's attention for the purposes of subsection (2) are those disclosed on a written notice displayed with the goods.
- (4) Goods will not fail to comply with the guarantee of acceptable quality if—
 - (a) the goods have been used in a manner, or to an extent which is inconsistent with the manner or extent of use that a reasonable consumer would expect to obtain from the goods; and
 - (b) the goods would have complied with the guarantee of acceptable quality if they had not been used in that manner or to that extent.
- (5) A reference in subsections (2) and (3) to a defect means any failure of the goods to comply with the guarantee of acceptable quality.

Compare: Consumer Products Warranties Act 1977 ss 2(a), 34 (Saskatchewan)

Section 7(1)(ha): inserted, on 17 June 2014, by section 8 of the Consumer Guarantees Amendment Act 2013 (2013 No 144).

7A Guarantee of acceptable quality in supply of gas and electricity

- (1) There is a guarantee that the supply of gas by a gas retailer, and the supply of electricity by an electricity retailer, to a consumer is of an acceptable quality.
- (2) The guarantee of acceptable quality is a guarantee that—
 - (a) the supply of gas or electricity is as safe as a reasonable consumer would expect it to be; and
 - (b) the supply of gas or electricity to a place is as reliable as a reasonable consumer would expect a supply to that place to be; and
 - (c) the quality of the gas or electricity supplied is such that it can be consistently used for the things that a reasonable consumer would expect to use gas or electricity for.
- (3) When determining what a reasonable consumer would expect, it is assumed that the consumer has considered—
 - (a) that the supply of gas or electricity may be affected by emergencies, or other events or circumstances, outside the control of the retailer or any other person involved in the supply of gas or electricity; and
 - (b) that the supply of gas or electricity may be interrupted for safety, maintenance, or other technical reasons; and
 - (c) that the quality of gas or electricity supplied may fluctuate, but that fluctuations are acceptable only within tolerances permitted by gas and electricity safety regulations; and

- (d) that the reliability and quality of the supply of gas or electricity may vary depending on the location of the place to which the gas or electricity is supplied; and
 - (e) that reliability and quality of supply may be related to price.
- (4) The supply of gas or electricity will not fail to comply with the guarantee of acceptable quality—
- (a) if the gas or electricity has been used by the consumer in an unreasonable manner or to an unreasonable extent, and the supply of gas or electricity would have complied with the guarantee of acceptable quality if it had not been used in that manner or to that extent; or
 - (b) if, in a case where the quality and reliability of supply by a gas or electricity retailer to a particular consumer is likely to be significantly worse than the quality and reliability of supply that generally applies to gas or electricity supplied by the retailer,—
 - (i) the retailer or the person supplying line function services has specifically explained to the consumer the ways in which the supply is likely to be significantly worse; and
 - (ii) the consumer has accepted the supply on that basis, even if an otherwise reasonable consumer may not regard that supply as acceptable.
- (5) In this section and section 7B,— electricity retailer means a retailer as defined in the Electricity Industry Act 2010 gas retailer means a gas retailer as defined in the Gas Act 1992.

Section 7A: inserted, on 17 June 2014, by section 9 of the Consumer Guarantees Amendment Act 2013 (2013 No 144).

7B Relationship of section 7A with rest of Act

- (1) For the purposes of this Act, except as described in this section, gas (other than non-reticulated gas) and electricity are not to be treated as being goods, and the supply of gas or electricity by retailers is not to be treated as the supply of a service.
- (2) If the supply of gas or electricity fails to comply with the guarantee of acceptable quality in section 7A, in order that Part 2 may apply to give consumers a right of redress against gas retailers and electricity retailers, that Part must be applied as if gas and electricity were goods, and as if gas retailers and electricity retailers were the suppliers of those goods.
- (3) For the purpose of applying the provisions of Part 5 to the supply of gas and electricity to consumers, that Part must be applied as if gas and electricity were goods, and as if gas retailers and electricity retailers were the suppliers of those goods.

- (4) To avoid doubt, the guarantee provided by section 7A is the only guarantee provided under this Act that relates to the supply of gas (other than non-reticulated gas) or electricity by gas retailers and electricity retailers.

Section 7B: inserted, on 17 June 2014, by section 9 of the Consumer Guarantees Amendment Act 2013 (2013 No 144).

8 Guarantees as to fitness for particular purpose

- (1) Subject to section 41, the following guarantees apply where goods are supplied to a consumer:
- (a) that the goods are reasonably fit for any particular purpose that the consumer makes known, expressly or by implication, to the supplier as the purpose for which the goods are being acquired by the consumer; and
 - (b) that the goods are reasonably fit for any particular purpose for which the supplier represents that they are or will be fit.
- (2) Those guarantees do not apply where the circumstances show that—
- (a) the consumer does not rely on the supplier's skill or judgment; or
 - (b) it is unreasonable for the consumer to rely on the supplier's skill or judgment.
- (3) This section applies whether or not the purpose is a purpose for which the goods are commonly supplied.
- (4) Part 2 gives the consumer a right of redress against the supplier where the goods fail to comply with any guarantee in this section.

Compare: 1908 No 168 s 16(a); 1971 No 147 s 13

9 Guarantee that goods comply with description

- (1) Subject to section 41, where goods are supplied by description to a consumer, there is a guarantee that the goods correspond with the description.
- (2) A supply of goods is not prevented from being a supply by description by reason only that, being exposed for sale or hire, they are selected by a consumer.
- (3) If the goods are supplied by reference to a sample or demonstration model as well as by description, the guarantees in this section and in section 10 will both apply.
- (4) Where the goods fail to comply with the guarantee in this section,—
- (a) Part 2 gives the consumer a right of redress against the supplier; and
 - (b) Part 3 may give the consumer a right of redress against the manufacturer.

Compare: 1908 No 168 s 15; 1971 No 147 s 14(2); Trade Practices Act 1974 s 70(2) (Aust)

10 Guarantee that goods comply with sample

- (1) Subject to section 41, the following guarantees apply where goods are supplied to a consumer by reference to a sample or demonstration model:

- (a) that the goods correspond with the sample or demonstration model in quality; and
 - (b) that the consumer will have a reasonable opportunity to compare the goods with the sample.
- (2) If the goods are supplied by reference to a sample or demonstration model as well as by description, the guarantees in this section and section 9 will both apply.
- (3) Part 2 gives the consumer a right of redress against the supplier where the goods fail to comply with any guarantee in this section.

Compare: 1908 No 168 s 17; 1971 No 147 s 14(1)

11 Guarantee as to price

- (1) Subject to section 41, where goods are supplied to a consumer there is a guarantee that the consumer is not liable to pay to the supplier more than a reasonable price for the goods in any case where the price for the goods is not—
 - (a) determined by the contract; nor
 - (b) left to be determined in a manner agreed by the contract; nor
 - (c) left to be determined by the course of dealing between the parties.
- (2) Where there is a failure to comply with the guarantee in this section, the consumer's right of redress is to refuse to pay more than a reasonable price.
- (3) Nothing in Part 2 confers any other right of redress.

 - (ii) because of the size or height or method of attachment,— the goods cannot be returned or removed or transported without significant cost to the consumer, in which case the supplier shall collect the goods at the expense of the supplier; or
 - (b) unless the goods have already been returned to, or retrieved by, the supplier.

- (2) A refund referred to in subsection (1)(a) means a refund in cash of the money paid or the value of any other consideration provided, or both, as the case may require.
- (3) The obligation to refund cannot be satisfied by permitting the consumer to acquire goods from the supplier.

- (1) Where a consumer cancels under this Act a contract for the supply of services, a court or the Disputes Tribunal, in any proceedings or on application made for

 - (a) any benefit or advantage obtained by the consumer by reason of anything done by the supplier in or for the purpose of supplying the service; and

- (5) No order shall be made under subsection (2)(a) that would have the effect of depriving a person, not being a party to the contract, of the possession of or any estate or interest in any property acquired by him or her in good faith and for valuable consideration.

- (6) No order shall be made under this section in respect of any property if any party to the contract has so altered his or her position in relation to the property, whether before or after the cancellation of the contract, that, having regard to all relevant circumstances, it would in the opinion of the court or Tribunal be inequitable to any party to make such an order.
- (7) An application for an order under this section may be made by—
- (a) the consumer; or
 - (b) the supplier; or
 - (c) any person claiming through or under the consumer or the supplier; or

44 Assessment of damages in case of hire purchase agreements

The damages that a consumer may recover for a failure of goods supplied under a hire purchase agreement to comply with a guarantee set out in this Act shall be assessed, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, on the basis that the consumer will complete the purchase of the goods or would have completed that purchase if the goods had complied with the guarantee.

45 Liability for representations

- (1) Where goods assigned or procured to be assigned to the supplier by a person acting in trade (in this section referred to as the dealer) are supplied to a consumer, every representation made to the consumer by the dealer, or anyone acting on behalf of the dealer, in connection with or in the course of negotiations leading to the supply of the goods shall give the consumer—

- (a) as against the supplier, subject to section 46, the same rights as the consumer would have had under this Act if the representation had been made by the supplier personally:
 - (b) as against the dealer who made the representation and any person on whose behalf the dealer was acting in making it, the same rights against any or all of them personally as the consumer would have had under this Act if that person had supplied the goods to the consumer as a result of the negotiations.
- (2) Without prejudice to any other rights or remedies to which a supplier may be entitled, a supplier shall be entitled, where the representation was made without his or her express or implied authority, to be indemnified by the dealer who made the representation and by any person on whose behalf the dealer was acting in making it, against any damage suffered by the supplier through the operation of subsection (1).

46A Indemnification of gas and electricity retailers

- (1) This section applies if—

- (a) there has been a failure of the acceptable quality guarantee in section 7A in the supply of gas or electricity to a consumer by a retailer, as determined—
 - (i) by the retailer; or
 - (ii) if the retailer does not make a determination or if the retailer's determination is challenged, by the dispute resolution scheme following a complaint made under section 43EA of the Gas Act 1992 or under section 95 of the Electricity Industry Act 2010 (as the case requires); or
 - (iii) by a court or the Disputes Tribunal (if a court or the Disputes Tribunal makes a determination on the issue); and
 - (b) the failure of acceptable quality was wholly or partly the result of an event, circumstance, or condition associated with—
 - (i) a gas pipeline or other equipment that was, at the time of the failure, the responsibility of a person then supplying line function services (a responsible party); or
 - (ii) electricity lines or other equipment that was, at the time of the failure, the responsibility of a person (including Transpower (as defined in the Electricity Industry Act 2010)) then supplying line function services (a responsible party); and
 - (c) the failure was not a result of a person involved in the supply complying with a rule or order with which it was legally obliged to comply; and
 - (d) the failure was not a result of action taken by Transpower in its capacity as system operator under the Electricity Industry Act 2010; and
 - (e) the consumer obtains a remedy under Part 2 in relation to the failure against the gas or electricity retailer; and
 - (f) that remedy is a cost to the retailer (a remedy cost).
- (2) If this section applies, a retailer that has incurred remedy costs is entitled to be indemnified for those costs by the responsible party or responsible parties.
 - (3) The amount of a responsible party's liability under the indemnity is limited to the proportion of the remedy costs that is attributable to the events, circumstances, or conditions associated with the gas pipelines, electricity lines, or other equipment that the responsible party was responsible for at the time of the failure.
 - (4) However,—
 - (a) if a responsible party pays compensation to a consumer (payment A) in respect of a service provided directly by the responsible party to the consumer; and

- (b) if the retailer incurs remedy costs in relation to that consumer for a failure of acceptable quality that arose from the same event, circumstance, or condition that led to the payment of payment A; then
 - (c) the amount that the retailer would otherwise recover from the responsible party in respect of that consumer must be reduced by the amount of payment A.
- (5) Disputes between gas or electricity retailers and responsible parties relating to the existence or allocation of liability under the indemnity may be dealt with by the dispute resolution scheme referred to,—
- (a) in the case of gas, in section 43E of the Gas Act 1992; and
 - (b) in the case of electricity, in section 95 of the Electricity Industry Act 2010.
