 - (b) the defendant had no reasonable grounds for suspecting that they were not so produced or imported.

- (2) The defence described in subsection (1) is not available if the prosecution proves that the Trans-Tasman mutual recognition principle in relation to goods did not apply in the circumstances of the alleged offence.
- (3) Without limiting subsection (2), the defence described in subsection (1) is not available in relation to goods that were labelled at the point of sale with a statement to the effect that they were produced in or imported into Australia if the prosecution proves—
 - (a) that the goods were not, at the time they were labelled, subject to laws of the Commonwealth relating to the requirements described in the section of the Australian Act dealing with requirements that do not need to be complied with; or
 - (b) that, if the goods were, at the time they were labelled, subject to laws of the Commonwealth relating to the requirements described in the section of the Australian Act dealing with requirements that do not need to be complied with, the Commonwealth was not, at that time, a participating jurisdiction.
- (4) Without limiting subsection (2), the defence described in subsection (1) is not available in relation to goods that were labelled at the point of sale with a statement to the effect that they were produced in or imported into a State if the prosecution proves—
 - (a) that the goods were not, at the time they were labelled, subject to laws of the State relating to the requirements described in the section of the Australian Act dealing with requirements that do not need to be complied with; or
 - (b) that, if the goods were, at the time they were labelled, subject to laws of the State relating to the requirements described in the section of the Australian Act dealing with requirements that do not need to be complied with, the State was not, at that time, a participating jurisdiction.
- (5) If the goods were labelled at the point of sale with a statement to the effect that they were produced in or imported into Australia,—
 - (a) any relevant presumptions or evidentiary procedures under the law of the Commonwealth are available to the prosecution or defendant in relation to matters sought to be proved by the prosecution under subsection (2) or subsection (3); and
 - (b) any relevant defences under the law of the Commonwealth are available to the defendant in relation to matters sought to be proved by the prosecution under subsection (2) or subsection (3).
- (6) If the goods were labelled at the point of sale with a statement to the effect that they were produced in or imported into a State,—
 - (a) any relevant presumptions or evidentiary procedures under the law of the State are available to the prosecution or defendant in relation to matters

- sought to be proved by the prosecution under subsection (2) or subsection (4); and
- (b) any relevant defences under the law of the State are available to the defendant in relation to matters sought to be proved by the prosecution under subsection (2) or subsection (4).

Compare: Trans-Tasman Mutual Recognition Bill 1996 cls 28, 29(1) (Aust)

- (a) to be registered in New Zealand for the equivalent occupation; and
- (b) pending such registration, to carry on the equivalent occupation in New Zealand.
- (2) The entitlement described in subsection (1) arises by virtue of this Act, and no law of New Zealand requiring an individual seeking to carry on that occupation to have any particular qualification before doing so applies to any individual who is registered in an Australian jurisdiction for an occupation and who gives notice to the local registration authority for the equivalent occupation in accordance with section 19.

16 Section 15 not to affect operation of certain laws
