- 2 Commencement
This Act comes into force on 1 July 2005.

Part 1

Preliminary provisions

- 3 Purpose of this Act
 - (1) The purpose of this Act is to—

- (a) promote children's welfare and best interests, and facilitate their development, by helping to ensure that appropriate arrangements are in place for their guardianship and care; and
 - (b) recognise certain rights of children.
- (2) To that end, this Act—
- (a) defines and regulates—
 - (i) parents' duties, powers, rights, and responsibilities as guardians of their children:
 - (ii) parents' powers to appoint guardians:
 - (iii) courts' powers in relation to the guardianship and care of children:
 - (b) acknowledges the role that other family members may have in the care of children:
 - (c) respects children's views and, in certain cases, recognises their consents (or refusals to consent) to medical procedures:
 - (d) encourages agreed arrangements for, and provides for the resolution of disputes about, the care of children:
 - (e) makes provision for enforcing orders internationally:
 - (f) implements in New Zealand law the Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction:
 - (g) reforms and replaces the Guardianship Act 1968 (including the Guardianship Amendment Act 1991).

4 Child's welfare and best interests to be paramount

- (1) The welfare and best interests of the child must be the first and paramount consideration—
- (a) in the administration and application of this Act, for example, in proceedings under this Act; and
 - (b) in any other proceedings involving the guardianship of, or the role of providing day-to-day care for, or contact with, a child.
- (2) The welfare and best interests of the particular child in his or her particular circumstances must be considered.
- (3) A parent's conduct may be considered only to the extent (if any) that it is relevant to the child's welfare and best interests.
- (4) For the purposes of this section, and regardless of a child's age, it must not be presumed that placing the child in the day-to-day care of a particular person will, because of that person's sex, best serve the welfare and best interests of the child.
- (5) In determining what best serves the child's welfare and best interests, a court or a person must take into account—

- (a) the principle that decisions affecting the child should be made and implemented within a time frame that is appropriate to the child's sense of time; and
 - (b) any of the principles specified in section 5 that are relevant to the welfare and best interests of the particular child in his or her particular circumstances.
- (6) Subsection (5) does not limit section 6 (child's views) or prevent the court or person from taking into account other matters relevant to the child's welfare and best interests.
- (7) This section does not limit section 83 or subpart 4 of Part 2.
- Compare: 1968 No 63 s 23(1), (1A), (3); 1989 No 24 s 6

5 Principles relevant to child's welfare and best interests

The principles referred to in section 4(5)(b) are as follows:

- (a) the child's parents and guardians should have the primary responsibility, and should be encouraged to agree to their own arrangements, for the child's care, development, and upbringing:
- (b) there should be continuity in arrangements for the child's care, development, and upbringing, and the child's relationships with his or her family, family group, whānau, hapu, or iwi, should be stable and ongoing (in particular, the child should have continuing relationships with both of his or her parents):
- (c) the child's care, development, and upbringing should be facilitated by ongoing consultation and co-operation among and between the child's parents and guardians and all persons exercising the role of providing day-to-day care for, or entitled to have contact with, the child:
- (d) relationships between the child and members of his or her family, family group, whānau, hapu, or iwi should be preserved and strengthened, and those members should be encouraged to participate in the child's care, development, and upbringing:
- (e) the child's safety must be protected and, in particular, he or she must be protected from all forms of violence as defined in section 3(2) to (5) of the Domestic Violence Act 1995 (whether by members of his or her family, family group, whānau, hapu, or iwi, or by other persons):
- (f) the child's identity (including, without limitation, his or her culture, language, and religious denomination and practice) should be preserved and strengthened.

6 Child's views

- (1) This subsection applies to proceedings involving—
 - (a) the guardianship of, or the role of providing day-to-day care for, or contact with, a child; or
 - (b) the administration of property belonging to, or held in trust for, a child; or
 - (c) the application of the income of property of that kind.
- (2) In proceedings to which subsection (1) applies,—
 - (a) a child must be given reasonable opportunities to express views on matters affecting the child; and
 - (b) any views the child expresses (either directly or through a representative) must be taken into account.

Compare: 1968 No 63 s 23(1), (2)

7 Lawyer to act for child

- (1) A court may appoint, or direct the Registrar of the court to appoint, a lawyer to act for a child who is the subject of, or who is a party to, proceedings (other than criminal proceedings) under this Act.
- (2) However, unless it is satisfied the appointment would serve no useful purpose, the court must make an appointment or a direction under subsection (1) if the proceedings—
 - (a) involve the role of providing day-to-day care for the child, or contact with the child; and
 - (b) appear likely to proceed to a hearing.
- (3) To facilitate performance of the lawyer's duties and compliance with section 6 (child's views), the lawyer must, unless he or she considers it inappropriate to do so because of exceptional circumstances, meet with the child.
- (4) The lawyer may call any person as a witness in the proceedings, and may cross-examine witnesses called by a party to the proceedings or by the court.

Compare: 1968 No 63 s 30(1)(b), (2), (3)

Guardianship

15 Guardianship defined

For the purposes of this Act, guardianship of a child means having (and therefore a guardian of the child has), in relation to the child,—

- (a) all duties, powers, rights, and responsibilities that a parent of the child has in relation to the upbringing of the child;
- (b) every duty, power, right, and responsibility that is vested in the guardian of a child by any enactment;
- (c) every duty, power, right, and responsibility that, immediately before the commencement, on 1 January 1970, of the Guardianship Act 1968, was vested in a sole guardian of a child by an enactment or rule of law.

Compare: 1968 No 63 s 3; Family Law Act 1975 s 61B (Aust)

16 Exercise of guardianship

- (1) The duties, powers, rights, and responsibilities of a guardian of a child include (without limitation) the guardian's—
 - (a) having the role of providing day-to-day care for the child (however, under section 26(5), no testamentary guardian of a child has that role just because of an appointment under section 26); and
 - (b) contributing to the child's intellectual, emotional, physical, social, cultural, and other personal development; and
 - (c) determining for or with the child, or helping the child to determine, questions about important matters affecting the child.
- (2) Important matters affecting the child include (without limitation)—
 - (a) the child's name (and any changes to it); and

 - (c) medical treatment for the child (if that medical treatment is not routine in nature); and
 - (d) where, and how, the child is to be educated; and
 - (e) the child's culture, language, and religious denomination and practice.

- (3) A guardian of a child may exercise (or continue to exercise) the duties, powers, rights, and responsibilities of a guardian in relation to the child, whether or not the child lives with the guardian, unless a court order provides otherwise.
- (4) Court order means a court order made under any enactment; and includes, without limitation, a court order that is made under this Act and embodies some or all of the terms of an agreement to which section 40(2) or section 41(2) applies.

- (6) Subsection (5) does not apply to the exclusive responsibility for the child's day-to-day living arrangements of a guardian exercising the role of providing day-to-day care.

Making arrangements

39 Purpose of sections 40 to 43

- (2) This subsection applies to an agreement between parents or guardians of a child so far as it relates to when 1 or more specified persons have the role of providing day-to-day care for the child or have contact with the child, or to the upbringing of the child, or to any combination of those matters.

- (3) An agreement to which subsection (2) applies cannot be enforced under this Act, but some or all of the terms of the agreement may be embodied in an order of the court if, under 1 or more provisions of this Act other than this section (for example, under section 48(1)),—
- (a) some or all of the parties to the agreement may apply for the order; and
 - (b) the order may be made by the court.

- (4) An order under subsection (3) may, so far as it relates to contact with the child, be enforced under this Act as if it were a parenting order relating to contact.
- (5) Any of the parties to an agreement to which subsection (2) applies may apply to the court for its direction if those parties are unable to agree on a matter—
- (a) concerning the role of the donor or donors in the upbringing of the child; and

- (1) A child of or over the age of 16 years who is affected by a decision or by a refusal of consent by a parent or guardian in an important matter may (unless the child is under the guardianship of the court) apply to a Family Court Judge who may, if he or she thinks it reasonable in all the circumstances to do so, review the decision or refusal and make any order in respect of it that he or she thinks fit.

- (b) the duration and timing of that contact:
- (c) any arrangements that are necessary or desirable to facilitate that contact.
- (4) A parenting order may be a final order or it may be an interim order that has effect until a specified date or event or until the court orders otherwise.

- (6) This section is subject to sections 50 to 52 and 60.

Compare: 1968 No 63 ss 11, 15, 16

49 Applications to include statement on others' involvement

An application for a parenting order must include a statement made by or on behalf of the applicant for the order about whether and how the order can and should provide for any other person or persons to have the role of providing day-to-day care for, or contact with, the child.

50 Parenting orders in respect of children of or over 16 years

- (1) A parenting order determining the person or persons who have the role of providing day-to-day care for a child of or over the age of 16 years must not be made unless there are special circumstances.
- (2) An order in respect of a child under the age of 16 years expires, so far as it relates to providing day-to-day care for the child, when the child attains that age unless the court in special circumstances orders otherwise on or after making the order.
- (3) Nothing in this section applies in respect of children who are under the guardianship of the court, or affects the power of the court to make orders in respect of the upbringing of a child, or to appoint or remove guardians.

Compare: 1968 No 63 s 24

51 Court must consider protective conditions in certain cases

 - (b) the court is satisfied that person A has physically or sexually abused the child or a person (person B) who has the role of providing day-to-day care for the child.
- (2) The court must consider whether the order should be subject to conditions imposed for the purpose of protecting the safety of person B while person A's contact with the child takes place (including while the child is being collected from, or returned to, person B).

- (3) This section does not limit section 48(4) or (5) or section 60.

53 Orders in proceedings under Family Proceedings Act 1980

- (1) This section applies to a court if it is a Family Court hearing or otherwise dealing with proceedings under the Family Proceedings Act 1980 for a separation order, an order declaring a marriage or civil union to be void ab initio, or an order dissolving a marriage or civil union.
- (2) The court may, before or by or after the principal order, make any interim or final order it thinks fit about the role of providing day-to-day care for, or about contact with, or about the upbringing of, a child of the marriage or a child of the civil union (as defined in section 2 of the Family Proceedings Act 1980).
- (3) Section 50 applies with all necessary modifications to an order under subsection (2), and an order of that kind may be subject to any terms or conditions the court thinks fit.
- (4) The court may, if in all the circumstances it thinks it appropriate to do so, make an order vesting the sole guardianship of the child in 1 of the parents, or make any other order with respect to the guardianship of the child that it thinks fit. However, if the court makes no order with respect to the guardianship of the child, every person who was a guardian of the child continues to be a guardian of the child.
- (5) Despite subsection (4), an order depriving a parent of the guardianship of his or her child may be made under that subsection only if the court is satisfied of the matters stated in section 29(3)(a) and (b).
- (6) An order may be made under this section, and an order made under this section may be varied or discharged, even though the court has refused to make the principal order or to give any other relief sought.

 - (a) must contain an explanation, based on the precise terms of the particular order, of—
 - (i) the effect of the order (for example, of the obligations the order creates); and
 - (ii) any processes for the monitoring and review of the order, and the means by which the order can be varied or discharged; and
 - (iii) the consequences that may follow if the order is not complied with; and
 - (b) without limiting paragraph (a), must be accompanied by general information, in the prescribed form, about the matters stated in paragraph (a)(i) to (iii).
- (2) A lawyer acting for, or other person representing, a party to an order under section 48(1) must explain to the party the effect of the order.
- (3) Explanations required by subsections (1)(a) and (2) must be given in a manner and in language that the recipients of those explanations understand.

- (5) A failure to comply with a requirement imposed by this section does not affect the validity of the order concerned.

Compare: 1989 No 24 s 10; 1995 No 86 s 87

56 Variation or discharge of parenting and other orders

- (1) On an application for the purpose by an eligible person, the court may vary or discharge any of the following:

 - (b) any other order about the role of providing day-to-day care for, or about contact with, a child;
 - (c) an order about the upbringing of a child.

- (2) On an application for the purpose by an eligible person, the court may vary or discharge an order vesting the guardianship of a child in 1 parent or in any other person or persons. If the order is discharged, and no other order with respect to the guardianship of the child is made, guardianship vests in the person or persons (if any) who would be the guardian or guardians if the order discharged had not been made.
- (3) In this section, eligible person, in relation to an order relating to a child, means any of the following persons:
 - (a) a person affected by the order:
 - (b) a person acting on behalf of the child.
- (4) Subsections (1) and (2) apply to orders of the kind referred to in those subsections whether or not the orders were made after the commencement of this Act, but nothing in those subsections applies to—

 - (b) any interim order or adoption order under the Adoption Act 1955.
- (5) Subsection (2) does not limit section 29.
Compare: 1968 No 63 s 17

57 Procedure if child's parents are parties to interim order

- (1) If the parents of a child are parties to an interim order and, under the order, each of them has either the role of providing day-to-day care for, or contact with, the child,—
 - (a) the order ceases to have effect (if it has not ceased to have effect sooner) on the following date:
 - (i) the date that is 1 year after the day on which the order is made (the specified date); or
 - (ii) a later date the court appoints, before or after the specified date, on an application for the purpose under this subsection before the specified date; and
 - (b) the parents must take all reasonable steps to obtain a final order as soon as practicable.
- (2) In making an order as to costs, the court may have regard to a failure to comply with subsection (1)(b); but nothing in this subsection limits the court's powers under section 142.
- (3) The court must, as soon as practicable, assign a date that is within the next 3 months as the date for a hearing on whether a final order should be substituted for the interim order if—
 - (a) an interim order is made on an application with notice or an application without notice; and

- (b) the parents of a child are parties to the order and, under it, one of them (parent A) has neither the role of providing day-to-day care for, nor contact with, the child.
- (4) However, if the interim order referred to in subsection (3)(a) was made on an application without notice, parent A may notify the court that he or she wishes to be heard on whether a final order should be substituted for that interim order and, if he or she does so, the Registrar of the court must, as soon as practicable, assign a hearing date that is—
 - (a) as soon as practicable; and
 - (b) unless there are special circumstances, within 42 days after parent A's notice is received by the court.
- (5) In this section, interim order means—
 - (a) an interim parenting order under section 48(1); or
 - (b) an interim order under section 53(2).

In considering, for the purposes of section 60(4), whether a child will be safe if a violent party provides day-to-day care for, or has contact (other than supervised contact) with, the child, the court must, so far as is practicable, have regard to the following matters:

- (a) the nature and seriousness of the violence used:
- (b) how recently the violence occurred:
- (c) the frequency of the violence:
- (d) the likelihood of further violence occurring:
- (e) the physical or emotional harm caused to the child by the violence:
- (f) whether the other party to the proceedings—
 - (i) considers that the child will be safe while the violent party provides day-to-day care for, or has contact with, the child; and
 - (ii) consents to the violent party providing day-to-day care for, or having contact (other than supervised contact) with, the child:
- (g) any views the child expresses on the matter (as required by section 6):
- (h) any steps taken by the violent party to prevent further violence occurring:
- (i) all other matters the court considers relevant.

61A Court may make orders to ensure safety of child in other cases

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) there are proceedings before the court relating to any of the kinds of application specified in section 59(1)(a); and
 - (b) section 60 does not apply to the proceedings because—
 - (i) the court is not satisfied that an allegation of violence (as defined in section 58) is proved; and
 - (ii) there is not otherwise a violent party (as defined in section 58) to the proceedings.
- (2) If the court is satisfied that there is a real risk to the safety of a child, the court may make any order under this Act that it thinks fit in order to ensure the safety of the child.

Section 61A: inserted, on 16 November 2011, by section 12 of the Care of Children Amendment Act 2011 (2011 No 59).

62 Costs of formal supervised contact

- (1) This section applies only to supervised contact that is ordered under section 60(5) and supervised by an approved provider.
- (2) The number of sessions of the contact that will be funded out of public money must be determined in accordance with regulations made under section 147(2)(a) or, in the absence of regulations of that kind, by the Registrar or the court.
- (3) Fees in respect of the contact—
 - (a) must be determined in accordance with regulations made under section 147(2)(b) or, in the absence of regulations of that kind, by the Registrar or the court; and
 - (b) are payable out of public money appropriated by Parliament for the purpose.

Making parenting orders work

63 Purpose and overview of sections 64 to 80

- (1) The purpose of sections 64 to 80 is to provide to the court, and to parties to a parenting order, a range of options for making the order work.
- (2) To that end, sections 64 to 80—
 - (a) provide for the parties to request counselling to resolve a dispute over observing and carrying out the order:
 - (b) provide for the court to make orders of various kinds, or to respond in various other ways, if a dispute over contravention of a parenting order is not resolved by the parties themselves:
 - (c) make it an offence for a party to the parenting order to intentionally—
 - (i) contravene the order; or
 - (ii) prevent compliance with the order:
 - (d) make it an offence to knowingly resist or obstruct the execution of—
 - (i) a warrant to enforce the role of providing day-to-day care for, or an order for contact with, a child; or
 - (ii) a warrant relating to preventing removal of a child from New Zealand:
 - (e) make it an offence to knowingly fail or refuse to afford immediate entrance to (all or a part of) any premises to a person executing a warrant of that kind:

- (f) make it an offence in certain circumstances to take or attempt to take a child out of New Zealand.

64 Guiding consideration and principles

- (1) In determining whether to make an order or to issue a warrant or to respond in another way under any of sections 68 to 77, the court must (as required by section 4) consider whether the order or other response would serve the welfare and best interests of the child who is the subject of the parenting order concerned.
- (2) The court must, unless the circumstances are exceptional, make orders or issue warrants under any of sections 70 to 77 only as a matter of last resort.
- (3) The court may not make orders or issue warrants under any of sections 72 to 77 contrary to the views of a child of or over the age of 16 years, unless the circumstances are exceptional.

Compare: 1968 No 63 s 23(1), (1A)

65 Request for counselling

- (1) A party to a parenting order (or to an agreement of the kind described in section 40(2)) may ask a Registrar of a Family Court to arrange counselling in respect of a dispute arising from another party to the order (or to the agreement) contravening or appearing to contravene the order (or the agreement).
- (2) If 2 or more guardians of a child are unable to agree on a matter concerning the exercise of their guardianship, any of them may ask a Registrar of a Family Court to arrange counselling in respect of their dispute.

66 Procedure for request under section 65(1) or (2)

The following sections of the Family Proceedings Act 1980 apply, with the following and all other necessary modifications, to a request under section 65(1) or (2) as if the request were one under section 9(1) of that Act by a party to a marriage, civil union, or de facto relationship for counselling in respect of the marriage, civil union, or de facto relationship:

- (a) section 9(2) (which requires the Registrar to whom the request is made, on the person making the request completing the prescribed form, to arrange for the matter to be referred to a counsellor):
- (b) section 11 (which relates to the procedure the counsellor must follow on being referred the matter), except that the reference in subsection (2)(a) to whether or not the parties wish to resume or continue the marriage, civil union, or de facto relationship must be read as a reference to whether or not the parties to the parenting order (or the agreement), or the 2 or more guardians, have resolved the dispute:
- (c) section 12 (which relates to the counsellor's duties in relation to reconciliation or conciliation):

- (d) section 12A (which relates to the number of sessions of counselling):
- (e) section 12B (which relates to counselling fees and expenses).

Section 66: amended, on 1 July 2005, by section 3 of the Care of Children Amendment Act 2005 (2005 No 5).

Section 66(b): amended, on 1 July 2005, by section 3 of the Care of Children Amendment Act 2005 (2005 No 5).

67 Registrar may decline requests for counselling and recommend instead applications under section 68

- (1) The Registrar may decline a request under section 65(1) that relates to a parenting order if he or she considers that arranging for the matter to be referred to a counsellor is unlikely to help the parties to resolve the dispute.
- (2) Without limiting the discretion in subsection (1), in exercising that discretion the Registrar must have regard to whether a party to the order has used violence (as defined in section 3(2) of the Domestic Violence Act 1995) against—
 - (a) another party to the order; or
 - (b) a child in the care of another party to the order; or
 - (c) both.
- (3) In declining a request under subsection (1), the Registrar may recommend that any or all of the parties to the order make an application under section 68.
- (4) This section overrides sections 65 and 66.

68 Court may make certain orders or respond in other ways to contravention of parenting orders

- (1) On an application for the purpose by a party to a parenting order, the court may, if satisfied that another party to the order has contravened the order, do any of the following:
 - (a) admonish the party who has contravened the order:
 - (b) vary or discharge the parenting order under section 56 (for example, by reducing the time during which the child is in the care of, or has contact with, the party who has contravened the order).
- (2) The court may (as well as, or instead of, exercising its powers under subsection (1)) consider making an order or issuing a warrant under any of sections 70 to 77 if—
 - (a) the contravention that is the subject of the application under this section is of a serious nature; or
 - (b) the party who has contravened the parenting order has previously contravened that order or another order under this Act.
- (3) Nothing in this section limits other powers of the court to deal with a contravention of a parenting order.
- (4) On receiving an application under this section, the Registrar—

- (a) must appoint a date and time for the hearing of the application and, by notice in writing to the parties to the application, inform them of that date and time:
- (b) may, if the court directs, request them to attend.

69 Court may require parties to attend for counselling or for hearing of application under section 68

- (1) On an application for the purpose or on its own initiative, the court may issue a summons requiring a person to attend at a time and place to be specified in the summons if the person fails to comply with—
 - (a) a request under section 11(1)(b) of the Family Proceedings Act 1980 (as modified and applied by section 66(b) of this Act) that the person attend before a counsellor; or
 - (b) a request under section 68(4)(b) to attend the hearing of an application under section 68.
- (2) Section 20(1) to (3) and (5) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 applies to a summons under this section as if it were a witness summons issued under that section.

Compare: 1980 No 94 s 17

70 Ordering party to enter into bond

- (1) On an application for the purpose or on its own initiative, the court may order a party who has contravened a parenting order to enter into a bond as an assurance that the party will not contravene the parenting order again.
- (2) Before making an order under subsection (1), the court must consider the extent (if any) to which the party has sufficient means to deposit an amount of money in the court.
- (3) The bond must specify—
 - (a) the amount of money to be deposited in the court; and
 - (b) the conditions the breach of which may lead to some or all of that money being forfeited to the Crown; and
 - (c) that, if that money is forfeited by a direction under subsection (4), the court may, by an order under section 71(1) made at the same time as that direction, require costs incurred by another party to the parenting order to be satisfied from that money; and
 - (d) a date after which the bond will no longer be required (if the bond does not cease to be required earlier, because the parenting order ceases to have effect earlier).
- (4) If, after entering into the bond, the party contravenes the parenting order again, the court may, at its discretion and on an application for the purpose, direct that some or all of the bond is forfeited to the Crown, but the court must exercise its discretion by taking into account—

- (a) the reason the bond was imposed; and
 - (b) the extent to which the conditions of the bond have been met or breached; and
 - (c) any explanation given for the breach of the bond conditions; and
 - (d) all other matters the court considers relevant.
- (5) Following the earlier of the following dates, the bond is no longer required, and the court must make all reasonable efforts to refund to the party any money not forfeited by a direction of the court under subsection (4):
- (a) the date on which the parenting order ceases to have effect;
 - (b) the date specified under subsection (3)(d).
- (6) Nothing in this section prevents the court, on an application for the purpose or on its own initiative, from revoking the order and directing that any money not forfeited by a direction of the court under subsection (4) be refunded to the party.

71 Costs of contravention

- (1) On an application for the purpose or on its own initiative, the court may order a party to a parenting order (party B) to reimburse another party to the order (party A), either wholly or in part, for costs party A incurred, if the court is satisfied—
- (a) that party B contravened the order and had no reasonable excuse for doing so; and
 - (b) that the contravention caused party A to incur the costs; and
 - (c) that the costs party A incurred were reasonable in the circumstances.
- (2) An order under subsection (1) (the costs order) may require costs (being costs party A incurred and is, under the order, entitled to be reimbursed for by party B) to be satisfied from money—
- (a) deposited in the court by party B as a bond required by an order under section 70(1); and
 - (b) forfeited by a direction under section 70(4) made at the same time as the costs order is made.
- (3) Nothing in this section limits section 121 or section 142.

72 Warrant to enforce role of providing day-to-day care for child

- (1) In this section, eligible person, in relation to a child, means a person who, at the time of the application, has the role of providing day-to-day care for the child—

- (a) through being a guardian (other than a testamentary guardian) whose role of providing day-to-day care for the child has not been removed by a court order; or
 - (b) under a parenting order, some other order of a New Zealand court, or an overseas parenting order registered under section 81.
- (2) On an application for the purpose by an eligible person, a Family Court or a District Court may issue a warrant authorising a constable or a social worker or any other person named in the warrant to take the child (using reasonable force if necessary) and to deliver the child—
- (a) to the eligible person; or
 - (b) to some other person or authority (including a person in or from a prescribed overseas country) named in the warrant on behalf of the eligible person.
- (3) However, if 2 or more persons have the role of providing day-to-day care for a child, no warrant under this section may authorise—
- (a) the removal of the child from the care of one of those persons; and
 - (b) the delivery of the child to the care of another of them.

Section 72(2): amended, on 1 October 2008, pursuant to section 116(a)(ii) of the Policing Act 2008 (2008 No 72).

73 Warrant to enforce order for contact with child

- (1) In this section, eligible person, in relation to a child, means a person who, at the time of the application, is entitled to have direct contact with the child under a parenting order, an order for supervised contact, or an overseas parenting order registered under section 81.
- (2) On an application for the purpose by an eligible person, a Family Court or a District Court may issue a warrant authorising a constable or a social worker or any other person named in the warrant to take the child (using reasonable force if necessary) and to deliver the child—
- (a) to the eligible person; or
 - (b) to some other person or authority (for example, a person in or from a prescribed overseas country) named in the warrant on behalf of the eligible person.

Section 73(2): amended, on 1 October 2008, pursuant to section 116(a)(ii) of the Policing Act 2008 (2008 No 72).

74 Further provisions about warrants

- (1) The court may issue a warrant under section 72 or section 73 either on or after making a parenting order or an order for supervised contact.

- (2) Neither section 72 nor section 73 affects any other power—
- (a) to enforce the role of providing day-to-day care for, or an order for contact with, a child; and
 - (b) that was exercisable by a court immediately before the commencement, on 1 January 1970, of the Guardianship Act 1968.
- (3) If a Family Court declines under section 72 or section 73 or in the exercise of a power to which subsection (2) relates to enforce the role of providing day-to-day care for, or an order for contact with, a child, it may, on its own initiative but subject to section 83(2) and (3), vary or discharge any existing order relating to that role or contact accordingly.

Compare: 1968 No 63 ss 19(3), (6), 19A

75 Execution of warrants

- (1) For the purpose of executing a warrant issued under section 72 or section 73, a constable or a social worker or any other person named in the warrant may enter and search any building, aircraft, ship, vehicle, premises, or place, with or without assistance, and by force if necessary.
- (2) The constable, social worker, or other person executing the warrant under section 72 or section 73—
- (a) must have that warrant with him or her; and
 - (b) must produce it on initial entry and, if requested, at any later time; and
 - (c) must identify himself or herself to any person in or on the building, aircraft, ship, vehicle, premises, or place who questions his or her right to enter and search the same or to take possession of the child; and
 - (d) if he or she is a constable who is not in uniform, must produce evidence that he or she is a constable; and
 - (e) if he or she is a social worker, must produce evidence that he or she is a social worker; and
 - (f) if he or she is a person (not being a constable or a social worker) authorised by the warrant to take possession of the child, must produce evidence that he or she is the person so authorised.

76 Authority to use faxed copy of warrant

- (1) An authority (as defined in section 77(1)) may authorise the use, for the purpose of executing the warrant, of a faxed copy of a warrant issued under section 72 or 73 or 77.
- (2) However, no authorisation may be granted under subsection (1) in relation to a warrant unless the authority is satisfied, having regard to the circumstances of the case, that any delay in executing the warrant that may be caused if a faxed copy is not able to be used for that purpose would or might unduly prejudice the purpose for which the warrant was issued.
- (3) An authority may exercise the power conferred by subsection (1) either on or after issuing the warrant, and either on its own initiative or on an application for the purpose made to it by—
 - (a) a party to the proceedings for the issue of the warrant; or
 - (b) a person who is authorised to execute the warrant.
- (4) If an authority grants an authorisation under subsection (1) in relation to a warrant, the authority must first write on the front of the warrant, and then sign, a note that states—
 - (a) the fact that a faxed copy of the warrant may be used for the purposes of executing the warrant; and
 - (b) the date and time at which the authorisation expires, which must be the close of the third day after the day on which the authorisation is granted.
- (5) A faxed copy of a warrant in respect of which an authorisation granted under this section is in force must, for all purposes, be treated as if it were the warrant, and the provisions of this Act (for example, sections 75 and 79) apply accordingly with all necessary modifications.
- (6) Without limiting any other enactment or rule of law, section 44 of the Policing Act 2008 (which relates to protection of Police employees for acts pursuant to process) applies in relation to a faxed copy of a warrant in respect of which an authorisation granted under this section is in force as if that faxed copy were the warrant.
- (7) Subsection (6) is for the avoidance of doubt.

- Judge or Family Court Judge is available, any Registrar of the High Court or of a District Court (not being a constable).
- (2) An authority may, on an application for the purpose by any person, exercise the powers stated in subsection (3) if the authority believes on reasonable grounds that a person may take a child out of New Zealand with intent to, or in circumstances where the taking of the child out of New Zealand would be likely to,—
- (a) defeat the claim of a person who has applied for, or is about to apply for, the role of providing day-to-day care for, or an order for contact with, the child; or
 - (b) prevent any order of any court (including an order registered under section 81) about the role of providing day-to-day care for, or about contact with, the child from being complied with.
- (3) In the situation stated in subsection (2), the authority—
- (a) may issue a warrant directing a constable or a social worker to take the child (using reasonable force if necessary) and place the child in the care of some suitable person pending the order or further order of the court having jurisdiction in the case; and
 - (b) may, in addition, order that any tickets or travel documents (including the passport) of the child, or of the person believed to be about to take the child out of New Zealand, or of both, be surrendered to the authority for a period and on any conditions the authority thinks fit; and
 - (c) may, whether or not a warrant has been issued under paragraph (a) (either with or without an additional order under paragraph (b)), order that the child not be removed from New Zealand by—
 - (i) any person; or
 - (ii) any person other than a person named in the order.
- (3A) An order made under subsection (3)(c) may specify that the order is to continue until—
- (a) the expiry of a specified period; or
 - (b) a further order is made by an authority.
- (4) Sections 75 and 79 apply, with all necessary modifications, to every warrant under subsection (3)(a) as if every warrant of that kind were a warrant under section 72 or section 73.
- (5) A person against whom an order under subsection (3)(b) or (c) is in force may apply to the authority for the discharge of the order, and the authority may, if it thinks fit, discharge the order accordingly.
- (6) No proceedings for contempt of court may be taken against a person in respect of an act authorised or required by this section or by an order or warrant made or issued under this section.

Subpart 3—Enforcing orders internationally

Enforcing overseas parenting orders in New Zealand

81 Registration of overseas parenting orders

- (1) If the following documents are transmitted to the Secretary, he or she must send them to the Registrar of a District Court:
- (a) a certified copy of an overseas parenting order; and
 - (b) a certificate that—
 - (i) is signed by an officer of a court in the overseas country in which the order was made; and

- (ii) contains a statement that the order is, at the date of the certificate, enforceable in the overseas country; and
- (c) written information tending to show that any of the following persons is present in New Zealand or is proceeding to, or is about to proceed to, New Zealand:
 - (i) the child who is the subject of the order; or
 - (ii) a parent of that child; or
 - (iii) a person who, under the overseas parenting order, has the role of providing day-to-day care for, or may have contact with, that child.
- (2) The Registrar of the District Court must register the order by filing a certified copy of the order in the court.
- (3) A Registrar of a District Court who receives the documents referred to in subsection (1) other than from the Secretary may register the order concerned if the Registrar is satisfied that the nature of the documents is such that, if they had been transmitted to the Secretary, the Secretary would have sent them to the Registrar.

Compare: 1968 No 63 s 22A

82 Effect of registration

- (1) If an overseas parenting order is registered in a court under section 81, then, so long as the registration is not cancelled, the order may be enforced, varied, or discharged as if it were an order made by that court under this Act.

83 Exercise of jurisdiction in respect of child subject to registered overseas parenting order

- (1) If an overseas parenting order is registered in New Zealand under section 81 and that order relates to the role of providing day-to-day care for a child, or to having contact with a child, or to both of those matters, no court in New Zealand (other than in proceedings under any of sections 72 to 76) may, in respect of any matter determined by the overseas parenting order, exercise jurisdiction in relation to the child who is the subject of the order unless—
 - (a) every person having the role of providing day-to-day care for, or who may have contact with, the child, under the overseas parenting order consents to the exercise of jurisdiction by the court in the proceedings; or
 - (b) the court is satisfied that there are substantial grounds for believing that the welfare and best interests of the child will be adversely affected if the court does not exercise jurisdiction in the proceedings.

- (2) If a court in New Zealand exercises jurisdiction in proceedings relating to the role of providing day-to-day care for, or relating to having contact with, a child who is the subject of an overseas parenting order that is registered in New Zealand under section 81, the court must not make an order about the role of providing day-to-day care for, or about contact with, the child unless the person who commenced the proceedings satisfies the court—
 - (a) that the child's welfare and best interests are likely to be adversely affected if the order is not made; or
 - (b) that there has been such a change in the child's circumstances that the order ought to be made.
- (3) If a court in New Zealand exercises jurisdiction in proceedings relating to the role of providing day-to-day care for, or relating to having contact with, a child, and does so without notice of the existence of an overseas parenting order relating to that child and that is registered in New Zealand under section 81, any order made by the court on or after the date of the registration of the overseas parenting order and that is in respect of any matter determined by the overseas parenting order is of no effect.

 - (b) has, since its registration in New Zealand, ceased to be enforceable in the country in which it was made.
- (2) The Registrar of a court in which an overseas parenting order is registered must cancel the registration of the order and inform the court in the prescribed overseas country of the cancellation if he or she is satisfied that the order is not enforceable in the prescribed overseas country in which it was made, and is satisfied of those matters by—
- (a) documentary evidence the Registrar has received; or
 - (b) the refusal of a New Zealand court, on the grounds stated in subsection (1), to enforce the order under section 72 or section 73, or to exercise jurisdiction under sections 56 and 82 in respect of the order.

86 Evidence of orders made in overseas countries

- (2) The court may, if it thinks just, make, against any person who has knowingly abducted the child, or who is deliberately holding the child, in contravention of the overseas parenting order, an order for the payment of some or all of the costs of returning the child to the person who, under the overseas parenting order, has the role of providing day-to-day care for the child.

 - (i) believes, on reasonable grounds, that another person will apply, in a prescribed overseas country, for the role of providing day-to-day care for the child; or

 - (b) in the case of a request made by, or on behalf of, a person who, under the order, may have contact with the child, the person by whom or on whose behalf the request is made believes, on reasonable grounds, that it is necessary to register the order in a prescribed overseas country in order to ensure that the order may be enforced in that country.
- (2) If a request is made to the Registrar under section 92,—
 - (a) the Registrar may require the person by whom or on whose behalf the request is made to supply to the Registrar any evidence in support of that request that may be necessary to enable the Registrar to determine whether or not the requirements of this section, as they relate to the making of that request, are met; and

 - (b) the application—
 - (i) does not contain the information specified in subsection (2); or
 - (ii) is not accompanied or supplemented by the documents referred to in subsection (3); and

- (a) that the child is present in New Zealand; and
 - (b) that the child was removed from another Contracting State in breach of that person's rights of custody in respect of the child; and
 - (c) that at the time of that removal those rights of custody were actually being exercised by that person, or would have been so exercised but for the removal; and
 - (d) that the child was habitually resident in that other Contracting State immediately before the removal.

- (2) Subject to section 106, a court must make an order that the child in respect of whom the application is made be returned promptly to the person or country specified in the order if—
 - (a) an application under subsection (1) is made to the court; and
 - (b) the court is satisfied that the grounds of the application are made out.
- (3) A court hearing an application made under subsection (1) in relation to the removal of a child from a Contracting State to New Zealand may request the applicant to obtain an order from a court of that State, or a decision of a competent authority of that State, declaring that the removal was wrongful within the meaning of Article 3 of the Convention as it applies in that State, and may adjourn the proceedings for that purpose.
- (4) A court may dismiss an application made to it under subsection (1) in respect of a child or adjourn the proceedings if the court—

106 Grounds for refusal of order for return of child

- (1) If an application under section 105(1) is made to a court in relation to the removal of a child from a Contracting State to New Zealand, the court may refuse to make an order under section 105(2) for the return of the child if any person who opposes the making of the order establishes to the satisfaction of the court—
 - (a) that the application was made more than 1 year after the removal of the child, and the child is now settled in his or her new environment; or
 - (b) that the person by whom or on whose behalf the application is made—
 - (i) was not actually exercising custody rights in respect of the child at the time of the removal, unless that person establishes to the satisfaction of the court that those custody rights would have been exercised if the child had not been removed; or
 - (ii) consented to, or later acquiesced in, the removal; or
 - (c) that there is a grave risk that the child's return—
 - (i) would expose the child to physical or psychological harm; or
 - (ii) would otherwise place the child in an intolerable situation; or
 - (d) that the child objects to being returned and has attained an age and degree of maturity at which it is appropriate, in addition to taking them into account in accordance with section 6(2)(b), also to give weight to the child's views; or

- (e) that the return of the child is not permitted by the fundamental principles of New Zealand law relating to the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms.
- (2) In determining whether subsection (1)(e) applies in respect of an application made under section 105(1) in respect of a child, the court may consider, among other things,—
- (a) whether the return of the child would be inconsistent with any rights that the child, or any other person, has under the law of New Zealand relating to refugees or protected persons:
 - (b) whether the return of the child would be likely to result in discrimination against the child or any other person on any of the grounds on which discrimination is not permitted by the United Nations International Covenants on Human Rights.
- (3) On hearing an application made under section 105(1) in respect of a child, a court must not refuse to make an order under section 105(2) in respect of the child just because there is in force or enforceable in New Zealand an order about the role of providing day-to-day care for that child, but the court may have regard to the reasons for the making of that order.

Schedule 1

Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction

s 95

The States signatory to the present Convention,
Firmly convinced that the interests of children are of paramount importance in matters relating to their custody,
Desiring to protect children internationally from the harmful effects of their wrongful removal or retention and to establish procedures to ensure their prompt return to the State of their habitual residence, as well as to secure protection for rights of access,
Have resolved to conclude a Convention to this effect, and have agreed upon the following provisions—

Chapter I

Scope of the Convention

Article 1

The objects of the present Convention are—

- a* to secure the prompt return of children, wrongfully removed to or retained in any Contracting State; and
- b* to ensure that rights of custody and of access under the law of one Contracting State are effectively respected in the other Contracting States.

Article 2

Contracting States shall take all appropriate measures to secure within their territories the implementation of the objects of the Convention. For this purpose they shall use the most expeditious procedures available.

Article 3

The removal or the retention of a child is to be considered wrongful where—

- a* it is in breach of rights of custody attributed to a person, an institution or any other body, either jointly or alone, under the law of the State in which the child was habitually resident immediately before the removal or retention; and
- b* at the time of removal or retention those rights were actually exercised, either jointly or alone, or would have been so exercised but for the removal or retention.

The rights of custody mentioned in sub-paragraph a above, may arise in particular by operation of law or by reason of a judicial or administrative decision, or by reason of an agreement having legal effect under the law of that State.

Article 4

The Convention shall apply to any child who was habitually resident in a Contracting State immediately before any breach of custody or access rights. The Convention shall cease to apply when the child attains the age of 16 years.

Article 5

For the purposes of this Convention—

- a* 'rights of custody' shall include rights relating to the care of the person of the child and, in particular, the right to determine the child's place of residence;
- b* 'rights of access' shall include the right to take a child for a limited period of time to a place other than the child's habitual residence.

Chapter II Central Authorities

Article 6

A Contracting State shall designate a Central Authority to discharge the duties which are imposed by the Convention upon such authorities.

Federal States, States with more than one system of law or States having autonomous territorial organisations shall be free to appoint more than one Central Authority and to specify the territorial extent of their powers. Where a State has appointed more than one Central Authority, it shall designate the Central Authority to which applications may be addressed for transmission to the appropriate Central Authority within that State.

Article 7

Central Authorities shall co-operate with each other and promote co-operation amongst the competent authorities in their respective States to secure the prompt return of children and to achieve the other objects of this Convention.

In particular, either directly or through any intermediary, they shall take all appropriate measures—

- a* to discover the whereabouts of a child who has been wrongfully removed or retained;
- b* to prevent further harm to the child or prejudice to interested parties by taking or causing to be taken provisional measures;
- c* to secure the voluntary return of the child or to bring about an amicable resolution of the issues;
- d* to exchange, where desirable, information relating to the social background of the child;

- e* to provide information of a general character as to the law of their State in connection with the application of the Convention;
- f* to initiate or facilitate the institution of judicial or administrative proceedings with a view to obtaining the return of the child and, in a proper case, to make arrangements for organising or securing the effective exercise of rights of access;
- g* where the circumstances so require, to provide or facilitate the provision of legal aid and advice, including the participation of legal counsel and advisers;
- h* to provide such administrative arrangements as may be necessary and appropriate to secure the safe return of the child;
- i* to keep each other informed with respect to the operation of this Convention and, as far as possible, to eliminate any obstacles to its application.

Chapter III

Return of children

Article 8

Any person, institution or other body claiming that a child has been removed or retained in breach of custody rights may apply either to the Central Authority of the child's habitual residence or to the Central Authority of any other Contracting State for assistance in securing the return of the child.

The application shall contain—

- a* information concerning the identity of the applicant, of the child and of the person alleged to have removed or retained the child;
- b* where available, the date of birth of the child;
- c* the grounds on which the applicant's claim for return of the child is based;
- d* all available information relating to the whereabouts of the child and the identity of the person with whom the child is presumed to be.

The application may be accompanied or supplemented by—

- e* an authenticated copy of any relevant decision or agreement;
- f* a certificate or an affidavit emanating from a Central Authority, or other competent authority of the State of the child's habitual residence, or from a qualified person, concerning the relevant law of that State;
- g* any other relevant document.

Article 9

If the Central Authority which receives an application referred to in Article 8 has reason to believe that the child is in another Contracting State, it shall directly and without delay transmit the application to the Central Authority of that Contracting State and inform the requesting Central Authority, or the applicant, as the case may be.

Article 10

The Central Authority of the State where the child is shall take or cause to be taken appropriate measures in order to obtain the voluntary return of the child.

Article 11

The judicial or administrative authorities of Contracting States shall act expeditiously in proceedings for the return of children.

If the judicial or administrative authority concerned has not reached a decision within six weeks from the date of commencement of the proceedings, the applicant or the Central Authority of the requested State, on its own initiative or if asked by the Central Authority of the requesting State, shall have the right to request a statement of the reasons for the delay. If a reply is received by the Central Authority of the requested State, that Authority shall transmit the reply to the Central Authority of the requesting State, or to the applicant, as the case may be.

Article 12

Where a child has been wrongfully removed or retained in terms of Article 3 and, at the date of the commencement of the proceedings before the judicial or administrative authority of the Contracting State where the child is, a period of less than one year has elapsed from the date of the wrongful removal or retention, the authority concerned shall order the return of the child forthwith.

The judicial or administrative authority, even where the proceedings have been commenced after the expiration of the period of one year referred to in the preceding paragraph, shall also order the return of the child, unless it is demonstrated that the child is now settled in its new environment.

Where the judicial or administrative authority in the requested State has reason to believe that the child has been taken to another State, it may stay the proceedings or dismiss the application for the return of the child.

Article 13

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding Article, the judicial or administrative authority of the requested State is not bound to order the return of the child if the person, institution or other body which opposes its return establishes that—

- a* the person, institution or other body having the care of the person of the child was not actually exercising the custody rights at the time of removal or retention, or had consented to or subsequently acquiesced in the removal or retention; or
- b* there is a grave risk that his or her return would expose the child to physical or psychological harm or otherwise place the child in an intolerable situation.

The judicial or administrative authority may also refuse to order the return of the child if it finds that the child objects to being returned and has attained an age and degree of maturity at which it is appropriate to take account of its views.

In considering the circumstances referred to in this Article, the judicial and administrative authorities shall take into account the information relating to the social background of the child provided by the Central Authority or other competent authority of the child's habitual residence

Article 14

In ascertaining whether there has been a wrongful removal or retention within the meaning of Article 3, the judicial or administrative authorities of the requested State may take notice directly of the law of, and of judicial or administrative decisions, formally recognised or not in the State of the habitual residence of the child, without recourse to the specific procedures for the proof of that law or for the recognition of foreign decisions which would otherwise be applicable.

Article 15

The judicial or administrative authorities of a Contracting State may, prior to the making of an order for the return of the child, request that the applicant obtain from the authorities of the State of the habitual residence of the child a decision or other determination that the removal or retention was wrongful within the meaning of Article 3 of the Convention, where such a decision or determination may be obtained in that State. The Central Authorities of the Contracting States shall so far as practicable assist applicants to obtain such a decision or determination.

Article 16

After receiving notice of a wrongful removal or retention of a child in the sense of Article 3, the judicial or administrative authorities of the Contracting State to which the child has been removed or in which it has been retained shall not decide on the merits of rights of custody until it has been determined that the child is not to be returned under this Convention or unless an application under this Convention is not lodged within a reasonable time following receipt of the notice.

Article 17

The sole fact that a decision relating to custody has been given in or is entitled to recognition in the requested State shall not be a ground for refusing to return a child under this Convention, but the judicial or administrative authorities of the requested State may take account of the reasons for that decision in applying this Convention.

Article 18

The provisions of this Chapter do not limit the power of a judicial or administrative authority to order the return of the child at any time.

Article 19

A decision under this Convention concerning the return of the child shall not be taken to be a determination on the merits of any custody issue.

Article 20

The return of the child under the provisions of Article 12 may be refused if this would not be permitted by the fundamental principles of the requested State relating to the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms.

Chapter IV

Rights of access

Article 21

An application to make arrangements for organizing or securing the effective exercise of rights of access may be presented to the Central Authorities of the Contracting States in the same way as an application for the return of a child.

The Central Authorities are bound by the obligations of co-operation which are set forth in Article 7 to promote the peaceful enjoyment of access rights and the fulfilment of any conditions to which the exercise of those rights may be subject. The Central Authorities shall take steps to remove, as far as possible, all obstacles to the exercise of such rights.

The Central Authorities, either directly or through intermediaries, may initiate or assist in the institution of proceedings with a view to organizing or protecting these rights and securing respect for the conditions to which the exercise of these rights may be subject.

Chapter V

General provisions

Article 22

No security, bond or deposit, however described, shall be required to guarantee the payment of costs and expenses in the judicial or administrative proceedings falling within the scope of this Convention.

Article 23

No legalization or similar formality may be required in the context of this Convention.

Article 24

Any application, communication or other document sent to the Central Authority of the requested State shall be in the original language, and shall be accompanied by a translation into the official language or one of the official languages of the requested State or, where that is not feasible, a translation into French or English.

However, a Contracting State may, by making a reservation in accordance with Article 42, object to the use of either French or English, but not both, in any application, communication or other document sent to its Central Authority.

Article 25

Nationals of the Contracting States and persons who are habitually resident within those States shall be entitled in matters concerned with the application of this Convention to legal aid and advice in any other Contracting State on the same conditions as if they themselves were nationals of and habitually resident in that State.

Article 26

Each Central Authority shall bear its own costs in applying this Convention.

Central Authorities and other public services of Contracting States shall not impose any charges in relation to applications submitted under this Convention. In particular, they may not require any payment from the applicant towards the costs and expenses of the proceedings or, where applicable, those arising from the participation of legal counsel or advisers. However, they may require the payment of the expenses incurred or to be incurred in implementing the return of the child.

However, a Contracting State may, by making a reservation in accordance with Article 42, declare that it shall not be bound to assume any costs referred to in the preceding paragraph resulting from the participation of legal counsel or advisers or from court proceedings, except insofar as those costs may be covered by its system of legal aid and advice.

Upon ordering the return of a child or issuing an order concerning rights of access under this Convention, the judicial or administrative authorities may, where appropriate, direct the person who removed or retained the child, or who prevented the exercise of rights of access, to pay necessary expenses incurred by or on behalf of the applicant, including travel expenses, any costs incurred or payments made for locating the child, the costs of legal representation of the applicant, and those of returning the child.

Article 27

When it is manifest that the requirements of this Convention are not fulfilled or that the application is otherwise not well founded, a Central Authority is not bound to accept the application. In that case, the Central Authority shall forthwith inform the applicant or the Central Authority through which the application was submitted, as the case may be, of its reasons.

Article 28

A Central Authority may require that the application be accompanied by a written authorization empowering it to act on behalf of the applicant, or to designate a representative so to act.

Article 29

This Convention shall not preclude any person, institution or body who claims that there has been a breach of custody or access rights within the meaning of Article 3 or 21 from applying directly to the judicial or administrative authorities of a Contracting State, whether or not under the provisions of this Convention.

Article 30

Any application submitted to the Central Authorities or directly to the judicial or administrative authorities of a Contracting State in accordance with the terms of this Convention, together with documents and any other information appended thereto or provided by a Central Authority, shall be admissible in the courts or administrative authorities of the Contracting States.

Article 31

In relation to a State which in matters of custody of children has two or more systems of law applicable in different territorial units—

- a* any reference to habitual residence in that State shall be construed as referring to habitual residence in a territorial unit of that State:
- b* any reference to the law of the State of habitual residence shall be construed as referring to the law of the territorial unit in that State where the child habitually resides.

Article 32

In relation to a State which in matters of custody of children has two or more systems of law applicable to different categories of persons, any reference to the law of that State shall be construed as referring to the legal system specified by the law of that State.

Article 33

A State within which different territorial units have their own rules of law in respect of custody of children shall not be bound to apply this Convention where a State with a unified system of law would not be bound to do so.

Article 34

This Convention shall take priority in matters within its scope over the Convention of 5 October 1961 concerning the powers of authorities and the law applicable in respect of the protection of minors, as between Parties to both Conventions. Otherwise the present Convention shall not restrict the application of an international instrument in force between the State of origin and the State addressed or other law of the State addressed for the purposes of obtaining the return of a child who has been wrongfully removed or retained or of organizing access rights.

Article 35

This Convention shall apply as between Contracting States only to wrongful removals or retentions occurring after its entry into force in those States.

Where a declaration has been made under Article 39 or 40, the reference in the preceding paragraph to a Contracting State shall be taken to refer to the territorial unit or units in relation to which this Convention applies.

Article 36

Nothing in this Convention shall prevent two or more Contracting States, in order to limit the restrictions to which the return of the child may be subject, from agreeing among themselves to derogate from any provisions of this Convention which may imply such a restriction.

Chapter VI Final clauses

Article 37

The Convention shall be open for signature by the States which were Members of the Hague Conference on Private International Law at the time of its Fourteenth Session. It shall be ratified, accepted or approved and the instruments of ratification, acceptance or approval shall be deposited with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

Article 38

Any other State may accede to the Convention.

The instrument of accession shall be deposited with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

The Convention shall enter into force for a State acceding to it on the first day of the third calendar month after the deposit of its instrument of accession.

The accession will have effect only as regards the relations between the acceding State and such Contracting States as will have declared their acceptance of the accession. Such a declaration will also have to be made by any Member State ratifying, accepting or approving the Convention after an accession. Such declaration shall be deposited at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Kingdom of the Netherlands: this Ministry shall forward, through diplomatic channels, a certified copy to each of the Contracting States.

The Convention will enter into force as between the acceding State and the State that has declared its acceptance of the accession on the first day of the third calendar month after the deposit of the declaration of acceptance.

Article 39

Any State may, at the time of signature, ratification, acceptance, approval or accession, declare that the Convention shall extend to all the territories for the international relations of which it is responsible, or to one or more of them. Such a declaration shall take effect at the time the Convention enters into force for that State.

Such declaration, as well as any subsequent extension, shall be notified to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

Article 40

If a Contracting State has two or more territorial units in which different systems of law are applicable in relation to matters dealt with in this Convention, it may at the time of signature, ratification, acceptance, approval or accession declare that this Convention shall extend to all its territorial units or only to one or more of them and may modify this declaration by submitting another declaration at any time.

Any such declaration shall be notified to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Kingdom of the Netherlands and shall state expressly the territorial units to which the Convention applies.

Article 41

- 2 for any territory or territorial unit to which the Convention has been extended in conformity with Article 39 or 40, on the first day of the third calendar month after the notification referred to in that Article.

If there has been no denunciation, it shall be renewed tacitly every five years.

Any denunciation shall be notified to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Kingdom of the Netherlands at least six months before the expiry of the five year period. It may be limited to certain of the territories or territorial units to which the Convention applies.

Notes1 General

This is a reprint of the Care of Children Act 2004. The reprint incorporates all the amendments to the Act as at 16 November 2011, as specified in the list of amendments at the end of these notes.

Relevant provisions of any amending enactments that contain transitional, savings, or application provisions that cannot be compiled in the reprint are also included, after the principal enactment, in chronological order. For more information, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/reprints/>.

2 Status of reprints

Under section 16D of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, reprints are presumed to correctly state, as at the date of the reprint, the law enacted by the principal enactment and by the amendments to that enactment. This presumption applies even though editorial changes authorised by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 have been made in the reprint.

This presumption may be rebutted by producing the official volumes of statutes or statutory regulations in which the principal enactment and its amendments are contained.

3 How reprints are prepared

A number of editorial conventions are followed in the preparation of reprints. For example, the enacting words are not included in Acts, and provisions that are repealed or revoked are omitted. For a detailed list of the editorial conventions, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/editorial-conventions/> or Part 8 of the Tables of New Zealand Acts and Ordinances and Statutory Regulations and Deemed Regulations in Force.

4 Changes made under section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989

Section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 authorises the making of editorial changes in a reprint as set out in sections 17D and 17E of that Act so that, to the extent permitted, the format and style of the reprinted enactment is consistent with current legislative drafting practice. Changes that would alter the effect of the legislation are not permitted.

A new format of legislation was introduced on 1 January 2000. Changes to legislative drafting style have also been made since 1997, and are ongoing. To the extent permitted by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, all legislation reprinted after 1 January 2000 is in the new format for legislation and reflects current drafting practice at the time of the reprint.

In outline, the editorial changes made in reprints under the authority of section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 are set out below, and they have been applied, where relevant, in the preparation of this reprint:

- omission of unnecessary referential words (such as “of this section” and “of this Act”)
- typeface and type size (Times Roman, generally in 11.5 point)
- layout of provisions, including:
 - indentation
 - position of section headings (eg, the number and heading now appear above the section)
- format of definitions (eg, the defined term now appears in bold type, without quotation marks)
- format of dates (eg, a date formerly expressed as “the 1st day of January 1999” is now expressed as “1 January 1999”)
- position of the date of assent (it now appears on the front page of each Act)
- punctuation (eg, colons are not used after definitions)
- Parts numbered with roman numerals are replaced with arabic numerals, and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- case and appearance of letters and words, including:
 - format of headings (eg, headings where each word formerly appeared with an initial capital letter followed by small capital letters are amended so that the heading appears in bold, with only the first word (and any proper nouns) appearing with an initial capital letter)
 - small capital letters in section and subsection references are now capital letters
- schedules are renumbered (eg, Schedule 1 replaces First Schedule), and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- running heads (the information that appears at the top of each page)

- format of two-column schedules of consequential amendments, and schedules of repeals (eg, they are rearranged into alphabetical order, rather than chronological).
