 - (a) as soon as practicable after the building work is completed; and
 - (b) in the prescribed form; and
 - (c) either—

 - (b) in a case where an amendment to an existing compliance schedule is required as a result of the building work, the specified systems that are being altered in, or added to, the building in the course of the restricted

- (i) he or she did not know nor could reasonably be expected to have known that the offence was to be or was being committed; or
 - (ii) he or she took all reasonable steps to prevent the commission of the offence; or

- (3) Despite subsection (2), if proceedings for an offence referred to in section 6(1)(a) of the Crown Organisations (Criminal Liability) Act 2002 are brought against a Crown organisation in reliance on subsection (2), it is a good defence if the Crown organisation proves that—
- (a) the organisation took all reasonable steps to remedy any effects of the act or omission constituting the offence; and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) no person involved in the management of the organisation knew or could reasonably be expected to have known that the offence was to be or was being committed; or
 - (ii) the organisation took all reasonable steps to prevent the commission of the offence.
- (4) If a Crown organisation is convicted of an offence against this Act, the chief executive or principal officer (however described) of the organisation and every person concerned in the management of the organisation is guilty of the same offence if it is proved—
- (a) that the act that constituted the offence took place with that person's authority, permission, or consent; and
 - (b) that he or she knew or could reasonably be expected to have known that the offence was to be or was being committed and failed to take all reasonable steps to prevent or stop it.
