7 Exemptions do not apply if trading in any securities of NZX issuer has been suspended for 5 trading days or more within previous 12 months

Clause 6 does not apply in respect of any securities of an NZX issuer if, at any time within the 12-month period before the offer is first made under the share purchase plan or the unit purchase plan, trading in any securities of the NZX issuer on a securities market operated by NZX Limited has been suspended for a total period of 5 trading days or more (whether the trading has been suspended on 1 or more occasions).

8 Exemptions do not apply if NZX issuer is subject to SDP prohibition order that is in force

Clause 6 does not apply in respect of any securities of an NZX issuer if, at the time of the offer, the NZX issuer is subject to an SDP prohibition order that is in force.

  - (g) describes the relationship between the subscription price and the market price of the specified securities; and
  - (h) warns that the market price of the specified securities may change between the date of the offer and the date when the specified securities are allotted, and describes the effect this would have on the price or value of the specified securities that a subscriber would receive; and

- (i) states that a subscriber may obtain from the NZX issuer free of charge,—
- (i) in the case of an NZX issuer that is not the manager of a unit trust, the NZX issuer's most recent annual report and financial statements; and
- (ii) in the case of an NZX issuer that is the manager of a unit trust, the most recent annual report and financial statements of the unit trust.
- (2) The exemptions in clause 6 are subject to the condition that,—
- (a) in the case of the subscription price being fixed before the document referred to in subclause (1) is sent, the NZX issuer must, as soon as practicable after the document is sent, supply to NZX Limited a statement that complies with subclause (3) for the purpose of that statement being made available to participants in the securities market operated by NZX Limited on which the specified securities are listed; or
- (b) in any other case, the NZX issuer must, as soon as practicable after the subscription price has been fixed, supply to NZX Limited a statement that complies with subclause (3) for the purpose of that statement being made available to participants in the securities market operated by NZX Limited on which the specified securities are listed.
- (3) For the purposes of subclause (2), the statement must—
- (a) specify the subscription price; and
- (b) be signed by each of the directors of the NZX issuer or his or her agent authorised in writing; and

- (4) The exemptions in clause 6 are subject to the condition that the NZX issuer must not allot the specified securities if, when the subscription price was fixed, the NZX issuer had information not publicly available that would, or would be likely to, have a material effect on the market price of the specified securities if the information were publicly available.

Statement of reasons

This notice comes into force on 1 November 2010 and expires on 31 October 2015.

The notice applies to the offer of specified securities by a person listed on a securities market operated by NZX Limited (an NZX issuer) under a qualifying share purchase plan or unit purchase plan. It exempts the NZX issuer, subject to conditions, from sections 37 and 37A of the Securities Act 1978 and from the Securities Regulations 2009 (other than regulation 23). One of the conditions of the exemptions is that the NZX issuer must provide investors with an offer document that contains details of the share purchase plan or the unit purchase plan.

The Securities Commission considers that it is appropriate to grant the exemptions because—

- the exemption notice exempts NZX issuers from the need to produce a registered prospectus and investment statement in respect of shares and units in a unit trust offered under share and unit purchase plans only in respect of persons who already hold securities of the issuer of the same kind being offered. The notice recognises that existing holders of the issuer's securities will have access to key relevant information about the issuer, including through an NZX issuer's continuous disclosure requirements under the Securities Markets Act 1988 and the NZX Listing Rules;
- the exemptions are limited in the amount that can be raised from a share or unit holder in any year, so that any significant fund-raising will not be able to rely on this exemption notice. Custodians are able to accept, on behalf of beneficial owners, securities with a total issue price greater than the maximum individual amount permitted under the notice subject to certain requirements, including that custodians must certify that no beneficial owner will receive more than the individual limit permitted and that issuers are also reasonably satisfied that no beneficial owner will receive more than the maximum allowed amount of shares in any 12-month period;
- the conditions of the exemption reduce the cost associated with a share and unit purchase plan and allow existing security holders to obtain securities at a discounted price while providing them with protection by requiring the provision of alternative disclosure and by preventing the allotment of securities under the notice if an issuer has any undisclosed information that would be likely to have a material effect on the price of the securities:

- the changes to the application of the exemption notice since the last corresponding class exemption notice was granted in 2005 increase protection for investors, so that any NZX issuer that is subject to a simplified disclosure prospectus prohibition order will not be able to rely on the notice. Instead, the issuer will be required to apply for an individual exemption, allowing the Commission to assess the reasons for the non-compliance and whether, at the time of the intended offer, the market appears to be fully informed about the affairs of the issuer:
- the new exemptions from all of the provisions of the Securities Regulations 2009 (except regulation 23) have the same effect as the existing exemptions granted in respect of all of the Securities Regulations 1983 (except regulation 8).
