Explanatory note

This note is not part of the regulations but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These regulations, which come into force on 1 July 2025, amend Schedule 2 of the Residential Care and Disability Support Services Act 2018 (the Act) in accordance with section 75 of the Act, which makes it mandatory for certain figures in that schedule to be increased on 1 July each year to reflect increases in the relevant New Zealand Consumers Price Index for the previous year.

The amendments—

- adjust the applicable asset thresholds specified in Part 1 of Schedule 2 (which are applied as part of the financial means assessment of a person's assets to determine whether the person is financially eligible for a residential care subsidy) by—
  - increasing applicable Threshold A from $284,636 to $291,825 (clause 1(2) of Schedule 2):
  - increasing applicable Threshold B from $155,873 to $159,810 (clause 1(3) of Schedule 2):
- adjust the definition of income-from-assets exemption in clause 5 of Part 3 of Schedule 2 (which relates to the amount of income derived from assets that is considered exempt from a person's financial means assessment when determining the contribution the person is required to make towards the cost of their residential care) by increasing it—

- from $1,236 to $1,267 if the person is single:
- from $2,472 to $2,534 if the person's spouse or partner is a resident assessed as requiring care:
- from $3,707 to $3,801 if the person's spouse or partner is not a resident assessed as requiring care.

The adjustments reflect the percentage upward movement in the index number of the New Zealand Consumers Price Index (All Groups) for the year ending on 31 March 2025 (approximately 2.53%).

In accordance with section 75(4) of the Act,—

- the adjusted amounts have been rounded up to the nearest whole number of dollars:
- the adjusted amounts are based on the previous adjusted amounts before they were rounded up for the purposes of the Residential Care and Disability Support Services (Annual Adjustment of Applicable Asset Thresholds and Income-from-assets Exemption) Regulations 2024.

The adjusted amounts apply for the year beginning on 1 July 2025 and ending on 30 June 2026. On 1 July 2026, the amounts must be increased again to reflect the upward movement (if any) in the relevant index numbers for the year ending on 31 March 2026.
